The McGoran Case: What Really Happened?

By ROBERT M. STREBEIGH
(First of three stories)

John H. McGoran Jr. of Corte Madera has spent the past 11 months in a fruitless effort to get a thorough official investigation of his experience last Oct. 17 at the Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae.

Early that morning, McGoran has told all who would listen, he was arrested for a barroom brawl he did not start and for an assault of which he was actually the victim.

To all who would listen, McGoran has said that the arresting Larkspur police beat him with fists, a night stick and a pistol; denied him medical attention when he told them he was having a heart attack, and then had him jailed on false charges of disturbing the peace, resisting arrest, assault and battery, battery on a police officer, and drunkenness.

Having appealed to everyone he could think of, McGoran turned last month to the Independent-Journal for an investigation.

This reporter started with material available to authorities from the beginning: The official reports of Sgt. John F. Cottle and Patrolman Alasdair W. MacDonald of Larkspur police. No report was filed by a third Larkspur officer involved, Patrolman Roland Kirstein.

Both Cottle and MacDonald said McGoran was taken from the Confucius first to San Rafael General Hospital and then to jail.

McGoran claimed that — although he was cut and bruised and suffering a heart attack — MacDonald, with Kirstein as chauffeur, refused to take him to a hospital. He was driven instead, McGoran said, directly to the county jail in San Rafael, where he was refused by the jailer because of his battered condition. Only then was he taken to San Rafael General Hospital, he said.

McGoran's statement was verified by jailer Frank Kane and California Highway Patrol Sgt. James C. Dukes.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony, who handled the McGoran case, said this misstatement was never uncovered, because he had believed the police officers and not McGoran and consequently had never investigated.

What, then, really happened to McGoran between the time the brawl started at about 1 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 17, and the time he was jailed on a string of charges?

All that everyone agrees on is that disturbance erupted at about that time in the cocktail lounge of the Confucius in the Bon Air Shopping Center.

At the end of the bar farthest from the entrance was a party of six: Mr. and Mrs. McGoran; her brother, Chico school teacher Allan Knotts, and his wife and San Rafael High School teacher Michael Diaz and his date, Sally Hubbard.

Also at the bar, in street clothes and having drinks on the house, were off-duty Sergeant Cottle, his wife, and a friend.

Edwin Leong, part owner and manager of the Confucius, stopped at the end of the bar to greet Miss Hubbard, whom he knew. With Leong was a friend, Army S/Sgt. Richard A. Delatour, then living in Greenbrae and now stationed in Germany.

Had the district attorney's investigating officer questioned all of these people, particularly Delatour, he might have asked himself: Was the right man arrested? Should anyone have been arrested? Should everyone have been arrested?

Leong, in a sworn statement, said McGoran approached as he was speaking to Miss Hubbard and Diaz, both frequent customers. According to Leong, McGoran without provocation shoved or hit Delatour and was ordered to leave. Leong said that on the way out McGoran turned and kicked him to the floor, following up with further kicks. Leong said he then managed to get up and kick McGoran out of the bar and into the the foyer.

Sergeant Cottle's report agreed that McGoran kicked Leong, but made no mention of Leong kicking McGoran.

Delatour, under oath, said the fight started between Leong and Diaz and

No Relief From Heat

There was no relief in sight today from an Indian summer heat wave which sent temperatures soaring to a stifling high of 99 in San Anselmo yesterday.

The United States Weather Bureau said the hot weather would continue throughout tomorrow, despite light ocean breezes expected to come through the Golden Gate tonight.

The high in San Rafael was expected to reach 100 degrees this afternoon. The temperature had climbed to 86 by noon today.

The highest temperature for Marin County, and the Bay Area as well, was 99 degrees registered in San Anselmo yesterday afternoon. Other Marin highs yesterday were:

San Rafael, 97; Novato and Woodacre, 94; Sausalito and Mill Valley, 92, and Larkspur, 90.

In San Francisco, where heat contributed to the riot tensions in the Hunters Point and Fillmore Districts, the thermometer climbed to a record high 95 degrees. It never went lower than 70 degrees last night.

The high of 95 topped by two degrees the previous record high for Sept. 28 in San Francisco, 93 degrees in 1921. Downtown Oakland registered a high of 97 degrees yesterday, also believed to be a record.

The high temperatures are

Gym Repair Costs Put At $77,000

The old gymnasium at San Rafael High School should have about $77,000 in roof repairs to bring it up to state earthquake-proof standards, according to Harold M. Engle Sr. of the structural engineering firm of Engle and Engle.

Acting Supt. William C. Jordan of San Rafael city schools today announced receipt of Engle's report on the structure, which he was asked to inspect along with portions of Short and Laurel Dell schools that were built before the 1933 Field Act.

Engle made an inspection of the gymnasium building in 1964, following inspection of the "old main" at San Rafael High which resulted in more than $400,000 being spent for earthquake-proofing while it was being enlarged.

His new report said nothing had changed since the '64 inspection—except that the cost of repairs has gone up.

The roof of the locker room should be replaced, said Engle, and some repairs are needed to the roof of the gymnasium itself. His 1964 estimate for the work was $60,000. His new estimate is $77,000.

Arsonist Hits In Twin City

Corte Madera police believe someone set a grass fire early today on the Corte Madera Grade to distract police and firemen, then set fire to the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The recreation center fire was discovered at 2:34 a.m., while firemen were still fighting the grass fire which had been discovered at 1:12 a.m.

Harold Kelly of 515 Tamalpais Drive, a Corte Madera volunteer fireman and newspaper carrier, discovered the center fire as he was going to work. He told police he saw a man running from the building.

Firemen found the stage area on fire and the building filled with smoke. Damage was estimated at $2,500. After the fire was extinguished, police found that someone had entered the building by breaking a window, had tried to break into the liquor cabinet, and had smashed two inside doors.

Viet War Casualties In Combat Set Record

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. forces suffered more casualties in South Viet Nam last week than in any week of the war, the U. S. command announced today. The high toll apparently resulted from the hard fighting south of the demilitarized zone, where American Marines are battling North Vietnamese regulars.

American casualties during the week total 970, the U. S. command said, including 142 men killed 825 wounded. Three Americans were reported missing in action or captured.

Enemy losses rose also. Viet Cong and North Vietnamese dead last week totaled 1,165, the commands said. There were 722 the previous week.

Allied forces overran two Viet Cong prison camps this week and said one looked like the Nazi concentration camp at Dachau "all over again."

U.S. forces, directed by a South Vietnamese army private who had escaped from the Reds, seized a camp in Phu Yen Province about 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

They liberated 10 Vietnamese suffering from malnutrition, boils, pneumonia, skin infections and deformities caused by unset broken bones. About 40 to 60 other prisoners were dragged

Accident Causes 10-Mile Tie-Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A crash of two autos and a truck delayed thousands of commuters today on Bayshore Freeway — many as much as 40 minutes.

The crash, shortly after 7 a.m. at the Alemany Interchanged backed up northbound traffic more than 10 miles.

One auto was flipped on its top, blocking all but one traffic lane.

The highway patrol said one driver was hurt, but his condition was undetermined.

Troops Aid Police; Governor Wants End To Outbursts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Firm action by police and National Guardsmen with "shoot to kill orders" maintained order and quiet today after one brief outbreak by Negro rioters and snipers yesterday evening was quelled quickly.

Guardsmen were camped in the city's two major sports stadia—Candlestick Park and Kezar Stadium —ready to move swiftly against any new flare of rioting.

The effectiveness of police and military control raised hope that the rioting touched off Tuesday by the fatal shooting of a Negro youth by a white policeman may have run its course.

"The test is whether we have a quiet night tonight. If we do the Guard will leave tomorrow morning," said Maj. Gen. Paul R. Teilh, 49th Infantry Division commander.

"We'll have between 1,000 and 1,700 men on the alert at Candlestick Park and Kezar Stadium.

Gov. Brown drove through the Hunters Point and Fillmore riot districts after telling a news conference

"I think we have demonstrated that the rule of law will prevail in California."

Brown pledged to work with Mayor John F. Shelley and federal officials to obtain more funds to attack the Negro district's acute unemployment problems, blamed as the disorder's background cause.

"You can't have a riot everytime someone makes a mistake," Brown declared. He said he was not judging that the shooting incident was a mistake.

Rock-Tossing Race Melee In Southland

VENICE (AP)—Police and a crowd of Negroes clashed last night at this seaside community, officers said, after three white persons in a taxi were threatened.

The cab driver called police, who were met by a hail of rocks and bottles.

Sixteen police units, reinforced later by 10 more, restored order after an hour. Two hundred Negroes were on the street at one point, officers said.

Fourteen were arrested. There were no injuries. Several cars were dented by flying missiles.

Sgt. W. G. Schroeder said it began when a group of young Negroes went after a cab.

"They forced the driver, Duane Strattmap, to stop," Schroeder said. "When they threatened to attack, the passengers fled on foot."

The first patrol cars were so heavily bombarded that officers withdrew afoot. Reinforcements included 10 units from the crack Metropolitan Division.

Police said Negroes shouted during the rock throwing "Run the Whiteys out of here. Fight back, we'll show them who's boss" and "kill them with their own guns."

Most of those arrested were under 21.

They were booked on suspicion of riot, suspicion of failure to disperse or for violation of curfew.

Marin Men Are Alerted For Riot Duty

Twenty-three men from the California Highway Patrol in Marin County spent last night on San Francisco streets, backing up that city's police in riot-torn areas.

Meanwhile, 58 men of the couny's National Guard unit hastily summoned at 6 p.m. from homes and jobs—spent the night at the armory in Santa Venetia on standby alert, ready to roll on a moment's notice.

For many of the highway patrolmen, it was a long day's work. Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow said these had worked full shifts on the county roads before leaving at 6:30 p.m. for San Francisco. There, they patrolled mostly in the Ingleside and Fillmore districts before returning to Marin at 4 a.m. today.

Captain Parnow said he sent Lt. William M. Porter, three sergeants and 19 traffic officers to the riot area in response to a call for help from San Francisco police. He said he did not know whether his department's help will be needed again tonight.

"The presence of the National Guard should calm things down," he said.

No Gas Chamber Danger For Call

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The prosecution has recommended a life sentence for Norman Call, convicted murderer of San Francisco Painters Union leader Dow Wilson.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Walter Giubbini yesterday made the recommendation — which assured escape from the death penalty for Call — after Call testified Monday night before the grand jury against others accused in the slaying conspiracy.

Giubbini's recommendation came after Call appeared before Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington and waived his right to a jury trial for fixing his penalty. Wilson was shotgunned to death on a San Francisco street April 5.

Giubbini then proposed a life term for Call.

"As a first step toward his rehabilitation, this defendant has made disclosures to the people which are in the public interest," Giubbini said.

Elkington set a hearing and pre-sentence report for Oct. 19.

Still awaiting trial in the Wilson murder are Max Ward, Sacramento painting contractor; Carl Black, Oakland accountant; Richard Rock, San Francisco bar owner; Clyde Simmonds, who worked for Call, and Ben Rasnick, secretary of Painters Union District Council 16 in Oakland. Rasnick was arrested Monday in his Oakland office.

Elkington called Giubbini and other law enforcement chiefs who appeared before the grand jury into his chambers in a vain attempt to learn how information on Call's testimony reached the newspapers.

Airplane Missing For Years Found

OROVILLE (AP) — A logger hunting in mountainous country near the Middle Fork of the Feather River yesterday found the weathered wreckage of a light plane missing seven years.

Inside were the remains of three men and a woman.

The dead in the wrecked aircraft, discovered 30 miles north of Oroville, were identified as the pilot, Robert B. Hutchings, 43, of Richmond; Bernard Breitkwetz II, 32, and his wife, Bobbie Jean, 28, of Napa, and Robert Remell, 32, of Berkeley.

Water Cutoff Delay To Give More Notice

Department Stores' Gimbel Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Bernard F. Gimbel, retired chairman of the board of Gimbel Bros. department stores, died today after a long illness. He was 81.

Gimbel

Gimbel took what had been a small family business, begun as a frontier trading post in Indiana, and turned it into one of the nation's great merchandising chains.

Gimbel spent half a century cultivating good will as well as a department store empire. His philanthrophies were widespread.

The expression, "Does Macy's tell Gimbels," has become a national byword. Macy's is a block away, where it is presided over by Gimbel's close friend, Jack I. Straus.

Gimbel was born in 1885 in Vincennes, Ind.

The Gimbels expanded to Milwaukee, Wis., and Philadelphia, then to New York.

Columnist Arthur Krock Retires

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Krock wrote "finis" atop his column in the New York Times today to mark the end of a 60-year newspaper career that spanned 10 presidencies and brought him three Pulitzer awards. According to Who's Who, Krock will be 80 on Nov. 16.

Krock

Krock, who grew up in Glasgow, Ky., began newspaper work on the Louisville Courier-Journal and moved to the New York World after covering the Versailles peace conference in 1919.

Sukarno Under Fire

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Armed soldiers behind barbed wire barricades stood guard today as 5,000 students shouting "Sukarno must be brought to trial!" drove past the presidential palace. President Sukarno, believed inside the palace, apparently was prevented from flying to central Java today to be out of the city during the anniversary of the attempted Communist coup last Oct. 1.

Castro Cutting Rents

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro said in Havana last night that no one in Communist Cuba will have to pay rent by 1970. In a speech marking the sixth anniversary of his "big brother" spy organization, he said "thousands and thousands" of tenants are already living rent-free in homes and apartments confiscated by the government in 1960.

G.E. Strike Looms

Rockwell announced yesterday that he will retire next summer. He reaches retirement age of 65 next October.

A native of Denver, he was director of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford for seven years before becoming the eighth president of Mills, a women's college.

Airline Agreement Nudges Deadline By One Half-Hour

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines planes kept flying today as a threatened strike by 12,000 ground personnel was called off half-an-hour before the deadline.

Settlement terms agreed to by officials of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union were not disclosed, but negotiators said they would recommend that members accept them.

In Bargaining, begun last spring, the union had asked for a 30 per cent increase over a three-year period in wages that ranged from $2.54 to 3.57 an hour — in other boosts of from 76 cents to $1.07 an hour plus fringe benefits.

American, whose ground crews are represented by the TWU, was not affected by last summer's six week strike by the AFL-CIO Machinists' Union against Eastern, National, Trans World, Northwest and United Airlines.

If the strike by ground crew, mechanics, clerks, communications workers and supply personnel had not been canceled just before the 6:45 p.m. deadline yesterday, it would have also idled 16,000 flight personnel and stopped service by the nation's second largest airline.

Car Makers Hike Costs By A Billion

DETROIT (UPI) —General Motors Corp. hiked prices on its 1967 cars an average of $56 today, joining Ford and Chrysler in a price pattern that could boost consumer spending a billion dollars.

The price hikes by GM, which produces about half the cars sold in the U.S. each year, ranged from $29 to $89 for various models, less than Ford's $52 to $348 range and Chrysler's hike range of $39 to $359. It averaged $56.

Like its competitors, GM said the higher prices were necessary because of safety items and other equipment which were made standard on 1967 models. They previously were optional.

But the higher prices, whether justified or not by the safety features and other improvements, could push consumer spending up nearly a billion dollars, based on anticipated sales of about 9 million 1967 model cars.

The new models go on sale Sept. 30.

Only American Motors Corp., which produces less than 2 per cent of U.S.-made cars, has not yet announced its prices.

President Johnson had urged car makers to hold the price line despite new safety features. He told a news conference yesterday he "had hoped that these businessmen could have foregone the necessity of increasing prices."

"I asked that they do that," Johnson said. "But they are free to make their own prices and they did. We are now analyzing what effect it will have on the economy."

The administration fears a dose of higher car prices could fan the inflationary fires which Johnson is trying to extinguish.

Unlike Ford and Chrysler, G.M. said its "passenger car price adjustments are less than the 1966 option prices for those items made standard equipment in 1967 plus an adjustment for the cost of product improvements."

In computing their price hikes, Ford and Chrysler used the 1966 retail price of the formerly optional items. Price-tags on options generally carry a 40 per cent profit.

The lower GM price increases gave the company, already the world's largest manufacturer, significantly lower pricetags on some models compared with their Ford and Chrysler counterparts.

Washington sources speculated on the possibility of the Senate Commerce Committee holding hearings next month to determine if auto price increases are inflated and unfair.

Chrysler said yesterday it will raise the prices of its cars an average of $92 a car, with increases ranging from $39 to the suggested cost of a Dodge Dart convertible to $359 for Chrysler "300" hardtops. The price of the sportly Charger was reduced by $12.

The Chrysler announcement came as President Johnson and United Auto Workers president Walter P. Reuther criticized a similar announcement by Ford.

On Tuesday Ford announced price increases averaging $117 per car within a range of $52 to $376.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Teachers Appear To Feel Contract One-Way Street They Can Violate

It is not alone among superintendents that contracts with school districts are regarded as one-way pacts; the feeling is quite common among teachers, also.

CALIFORNIA LAW thoroughly protects the teacher from the breaking of his contract by the school board. Even a so-called "probationary" teacher, serving his first, second or third year in a district, cannot be dismissed without cause good enough to take to court in case he wants to fight for his job.

However, although teachers regard the contracts binding on the school district, many of them do not feel they, in turn, are bound by them. They feel free to take another job any time, secure in the knowledge they will be released from their current contracts.

Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District complained about this at a school board meeting just after school started. Four teachers had quit with the opening of school only days away. Finding replacements at such a time, he pointed out, is difficult — and there is virtually no chance to pick and choose.

BUNKER HAD REASON to complain.

State law says that contracts for the next school year must be presented to teachers in time for their return by May 15. But in the Novato district, 22 teachers quit between May 15 and the start of school this year.

All were released from their contracts, on the superintendent's recommendation—even the last four.

This situation is not peculiar to the Novato district, although it had an unusually large number of teachers quitting this year after signing contracts to return. Scarcely any school district in Marin was free of summer contract-breakers.

SCHOOL BOARD stories that appeared in the Independent-Journal did not appear to be complete in all cases in listing resignations of teachers. But since May 15, they listed the following numbers of teachers resigning:

Novato Unified School District, 15; San Rafael (both elementary and high school districts, 15; San Anselmo, 8; Mill Valley, 6; Kentfield, Lagunitas, and Tamalpais High School District, each 4; Marin Junior College and Larkspur, each 3; Ross, Tomales High, and the schools operated by the county schools office, each 2; Bolinas-Stinson, Fairfax, Reed, and West Marin, each 1.

Even this incomplete listing totals nearly 100 teachers who broke their contracts during the vacation season. All had, presumably, returned signed contracts by the May 15 deadline, then got better jobs elsewhere or decided for some other reason to quit.

ALL WERE RELEASED from their contracts without question.

School board members and superintendents usually take the position that a teacher who does not want to return probably won't do his best work if required to honor the contract. At least, this is the rationale for allowing the teacher to break a contract which he and his organizations (and the law) regard as absolutely binding on the school district.

Precedent was broken this summer, however, by a school board in Kennewick, Wash. A teacher there returned his signed contract, then in July got a better paying job with Bendix Aircraft Corp. He asked to be released by the school district, saying he felt he "could not do a good job" for the school next term.

The superintendent went along, as usual. But the board said no. A contract is a contract, it held, and it refused to release the teacher.

SUCH BOARD refusal turns the tables. If the teacher then fails to report for his job, his teaching credentials can be taken from him—and if he ever wants to get another teaching job, he may find it extremely difficult. He is "black listed."

Contract enforcement by a school board might result in a few disgruntled teachers who would not do their best work—to the detriment of their students. But when a teacher is allowed to quit late in the summer, the replacement found may be even less desirable—and that replacement attains "instant tenure" under California law so that his contract also must be renewed for the following year.

Maybe it would be a good thing if the Kennewick board started a trend.

Wagner Named To Advisory Unit

Dr. Leo Wagner of Novato, an internist, has been appointed chairman of the medical advisory committee of Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin.

Another Novato physician, Dr. John Wiersdma, is medical director of the organization, which maintains a family planning clinic in San Rafael and gives assistance to birth control clinics in Marin City and Novato that are run by the county health department.

New clinic hours are Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until noon.

State Charges Label Richer Than The Milk

A complaint signed by M. A. Cairns, district supervisor for the department's Bureau of Dairy Service, charges John Sabatte, co-owner, with selling milk containing less than the required 3.5 per cent of milk fat, and with selling milk falsely labeled "extra rich." Both offenses allegedly occurred Sept. 20.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said tests by the agriculture department revealed that milk distributed from the depot at 7110 Redwood Highway was consistently short on butterfat during the past three months.

He said milk labeled "extra rich" failed even to comply with fat-content requirements for regular milk.

Bales said Sabatte and his company had been warned of the deficiencies, but failed to correct them. The milk is brought to Novato from Emeryville, where Berkeley Farms is headquartered, he said.

Sabatte will be directed to appear for arraignment at 1:30 p.m. Monday in Marin Municipal Court, Bales said. Maximum penalty on conviction of either of the alleged violations is $500 fine and/or 90 days in county jail, Bales said.

combining with low humidity throughout Northern California to create a critical fire hazard. The State Division of Forestry has placed a ban on all outdoor burning from the Golden Gate to the Oregon border.

Greatest fire danger was in the Sierra Nevada and the north coast timber areas, where the threat of high temperatures and low humidity is aggravated by gusty winds, the Weather Bureau said.

Other high readings in the Bay Area yesterday were: Pittsburg, 99; Woodside, 97; Redwood City, 95; Concord, San Leandro and Hayward, 95, and Lafayette, 93.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures were 10 to 25 degrees above normal in some spots around the Bay Area. In other parts of the state, Red Bluff reported 101; Sacramento, 100; Fresno, 95, and Santa Maria, 98.

While northern and central California sweltered, Southern California had cloudiness and light showers in some sections, resulting from tropical storm Kirsten.

Planners In Fairfax Study Design Review

Fairfax Planning Commission, meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Fairfax Women's Club, will consider an ordinance establishing a city design review board and a new subdivision ordinance requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions.

It will also consider Joseph Lauricella's conditional zoning application, which, if granted, would allow him to build a motel facing on Center Boulevard behind his residential property at 131 Mono Avenue.

Brown Demands Halt To Lawless Actions

"I'm saying that it should be thoroughly investigated."

As the temperature soared to 95 degrees yesterday, 1,200 Guardsmen joined police in the patrol of Negro districts. Another 1,300 stood by in the city and still another 2,000 were posted in suburban areas.

At midday yesterday, sporadic outbursts were reported and troops were sent into the trouble zones.

A blaze of gunfire started following a faulty report that a policeman, who actually was hit by a bottle, had been shot.

More than 100 officers grabbed their firearms and headed toward hundreds of Negro youths who had gathered on the streets.

A fire bomb exploded near the officers. They fired warning shots into the air and ordered the youths to disperse. When a rifle shot pierced the air, the officers hit the ground and opened fire, wounding several youths in the legs.

Looting, burning and rock-throwing then began in earnest throughout the area. It quickly spread to the Fillmore District.

Earlier in the day Negro adult leaders vainly tried to organize "Operation Freeze, Baby" to head off further violence but said later the "kids wouldn't buy it."

Throughout the day ambulances and fire trucks — all manned with armed guards — raced through the two sections.

Late in the night Police Chief Thomas Cahill told Brown and Shelley that the rioting was "under control right now, we have sufficient manpower to keep it that way." But he declined to estimate whether there would be more trouble.

The guardsmen were under orders not to take any chances.

"If you are attacked or fired upon, shoot to kill," an officer told them.

They immediately moved against tense knots of young Negroes in the streets. "All right, this is it — move. Now!" they ordered.

Mayor John F. Shelley and Gov. Edmund G. Brown declared a state of emergency and imposed a curfew Tuesday when the first rioting followed the killing of a Negro youth by a white policeman. The patrolman, Alvin Johnson, said the youth, Matthew Johnson, 16, fled from a stolen car and refused to halt despite warning shots.

Mayor Shelley sent a plea to President Johnson for funds to attack the "critical unemployment situation" which he cited as the chief reason for the rioting.

"I plead in the name of God and all human decency for immediate emergency funds to assuage this situation," he said.

Negro youth, he declared, had complained about the withdrawal of Manpower Development and Training Act funds.

Police said 42 persons were injured Wednesday, including three policemen, although there has been no deaths.

More than 135 persons were arrested and many stores, including several selling liquor, were looted.

Sniping was sporadic and "almost continuous" although no policeman was hit by a bullet.

More than 20 police cars, two California highway patrol cars, eight Fire Department vehicles and two buses were damaged.

As guardsmen sealed off the Negro districts, forcing everyone from the streets, police patrols concentrated on nearby areas against hit-and-run attacks by Negro youths in cars.

Without hesitation, tough guardsmen halted cars at bayonet point, yanked out the occupants and shook down the cars for looted goods.

For the first time, heavy police patrols moved on Market Street, the city's main thoroughfare.

At least 50 police bullets riddled a large car in the Hunters Point area after a sniper, who was shot, took refuge behind it. He was arrested.

Mission High School was closed after police stopped a group of some 200 Negro youths who were marching for a showdown against 75 white youngsters.

All high school football games for the week were called off, including junior varsity games today and varsity games tomorrow.

Hoping unsuccessfully to distract rioters, the city asked and got a television broadcast of the San Francisco Giants game at Atlanta. Usually only 13 Giants games a year are televised.

MARIN

Company E of the 579 Engineer Battalion lasted until 6 a.m. today for enlisted men. Company commander Capt. Richard Porter of Fairfax and Lt. George M. Cagwin of Mill Valley were not released from standby until 10 a. m.

As the men arrived, they were issued rifles and bayonets and canteens. Trucks were kept warmed up outside the armory at 155 Madison Avenue.

Blankets were issued, but many of the men had their own sleeping bags, and by 1:30 a.m. they settled down for a brief sleep. Many slept on the armory floor but others took advantage of the summery night to rest on the lawn around the armory.

The scene at Marin's armory was repeated in Healdsburg, Petaluma and Santa Rosa, as other companies of the 579th Battalion reported to their rendezvous points.

McGORAN

that he, Delatour, stepped between them "to break up the fight." He said McGoran came up to help his friend and got into a brief scuffle with Leong, and that a few minutes later, as he was leaving, McGoran kicked a man at the bar, whereupon Leong "dropkicked the big man (McGoran) clear out into the entrance."

Mrs. McGoran and Mr. and Mrs. Knotts agreed that the trouble started between Leong and Diaz and that McGoran became involved when he went to see if his friend was in trouble.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McGoran, however, said it was not with Leong that McGoran became embroiled at the outset, but with a man they call the "karate" man. They said he came at McGoran, making "strange karate movements."

Mrs. Knotts told the Independent-Journal that after the brawl a short, well-built man introduced himself as Richard Delatour and told her he was a karate expert.

Another patron present, William McCall of Greenbrae, told the Independent - Journal: "It was a big guy (McGoran) and a little guy. I didn't see anyone get kicked. It didn't look as if anyone got hurt."

McGoran said he thought he stumbled or was tripped as he backed away from the "karate man." When he fell, McGoran said, he was attacked in the foyer by several men almost immediately. He said all he could think to do was roll over on his knees and elbows, crisscrossing his arms before his face to protect it.

One man, the McGorans said, jumped astride him and pummeled McGoran while others were jabbing and kicking at him.

Mrs. McGoran said she kept shouting at her husband's assailants that McGoran had a bad heart condition, that if he had a fatal heart attack it would be manslaughter. Her husband, she said, was finally let up and they were able to go outside.

Leong said he followed McGoran into the foyer, and that McGoran grabbed him by the throat until someone pulled McGoran off. Delatour said it was he who pulled McGoran off Leong. Cottle said he did it, and that he identified himself as a police officer. When McGoran refused to cooperate, Cottle said, he placed him under arrest and escorted him out to arriving police.

The McGorans denied that anyone identified himself as a police officer or arrested McGoran inside the bar. They said that after McGoran was let up, they went out to their parked car and were standing by it when Kirstein arrived in the first patrol car.

They said that McGoran then went up to this officer to tell what had happened to him and was then arrested on Cottle's instructions.

Soldiers of the Korean Tiger Division sweeping Phu Cat Mountain discovered a Viet Cong prisoner of war camp whose only inmate was a ragged old man too weak to walk. He said the Communists had evacuated about 60 prisoners seven days earlier but he was too feeble to go with them. They left him behind with two days supply of rice.

Many of the American and enemy casualties apparently were suffered in Operation Prairie, the U. S. Marine operation just south of the demilitarized zone. In hard fighting there yesterday a company of Marines seized a heavily fortified hill, killing 50 North Vietnamese, and held their ground against three Red counterattacks and heavy mortar fire through much of the night.

HELEN HELLER

Requiem Mass for Helen E. Heller, 77, of Mill Valley will be offered tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Mission Dolores Basilica in San Francisco.

Tax Billing To Be Done By Oct. 15

Marin County tax bills, about 75,000 in all, will be mailed by Oct. 15, Stanley J. Fontez, announced today.

The total charge will be a record $47,006,000, including special assessments and public utility taxes. This is almost a $7 million increase over last year's total charge of $40,202,000.

"Those who bought property after Aug. 15 and any others who do not receive their tax bills by Nov. 1 should contact us," said Fontez.

Non-receipt of the tax bill does not relieve the owner of tax payment, he warned.

First installment payments become delinquent on Dec. 10, after which a six per cent penalty will be imposed. After next June 30, a penalty of one per cent per month will be imposed in addition to the six per cent.

Of the 75,000 tax bills, about 10,000 will be mailed to banks and other lending agencies. However, even those whose loans are paid by these lending institutions will get copies of their tax bills.

Infinite Way Class

The Infinite Way Study Group will start a series of night meetings Monday at 7:30 p.m. at 167 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo. The group studies the writings of Joel S. Goldsmith.

The forest products industry contributes over 70% of the economy of Humboldt county and 90% of Del Norte county. Irresponsible and greedy park proposals would slash millions of dollars off California's tax rolls; would wipe out $13,000,000 a year in payrolls; and would shut off the millions of investment dollars going into forest product industry expansion programs now underway.

Gigantic acreages of additional parklands are not the answer

Some 116,000 acres of government-owned redwood parklands already stretch throughout the redwood region, and they are insufficiently used. Attendance at these redwood parks has been declining. Less than two percent of their vast acres has been developed for picnic and camp sites. Most of this undeveloped parkland is inaccessible.

California Redwoods are not in danger of extinction!

All the old, park-type redwoods are protected in the long-established state and other parks and national and state forests throughout the region and in the 6,000 acres of outstanding groves being held by private owners until they can be acquired as parklands (some of these owners have been paying taxes for more than 50 years on the groves they are holding and protecting). Healthy, young commercial forest of redwoods guarantee redwoods forever. What the state really needs are more recreation areas, not more redwood "museums" that do not serve people.

Get the Facts— See for Yourself

Drive through the redwood region. See for yourself the more than 122,000 acres of park-type redwoods now being preserved, both in state parks and private lands. Visit a redwood demonstration forest. Enjoy the 365,000 acres of taxpaying, privately-owned recreation lands open to all the public for all types of outdoor activity, such as hunting, fishing, hiking and picnicking.

Reagan Assets Make A Close Race

By RELMAN MORIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Politically, as in his celluloid days, Ronald Reagan is demonstrating that he is "box office."

The erstwhile movie actor, now Republican candidate for governor of California, has been drawing crowds, stirring applause and laughter in speeches, fielding tough questions about government, and generally waging a strong campaign.

This, his first try for elective office, although he has been round the fringes of politics for years, and he turns out to be something of a phenomenon.

DRAWS VOTERS

Reagan won the nomination last June in a contest with former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, carrying 53 of the state's 58 counties and taking a towering 64 per cent of the GOP vote.

Now, campaigning up and down the 750-mile length of California, Reagan is drawing well. It may be largely curiosity to see him in person that brings out the people. His face was familiar, via movies and television, for years before he cast himself into his present role.

"Ronnie has been in millions of living rooms as a nice guy for a long, long time," said a Reagan lieutenant, "and that's one of the big things he has going for him."

OTHER ASSETS

There are others. He makes a smooth speech, seldom using a text or pausing to reach for a word. He says he writes all his speeches himself. They are punchy, articulate, a blend of humor, serious discussion of issues, and satirical pot shots aimed at his Democratic opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Reagan rattles off statistics to support his arguments on state questions. Discussing such problems informally, he tends to be more incisive than in speeches or news conferences. Neutral observers often remark, "He has been doing his homework."

In the lush, green and gold Napa Valley—the wine country—Reagan stirred clapping and laughter when he ridiculed the special tax on sparkling wines by calling it "the bubble tax."

POVERTY WAR

Reagan, a zealous apostle of private enterprise, says Los Angeles businessmen have provided 4,000 jobs in Watts since the Negro riots in that section of the city last year. With a sense of timing, he paused and added "and that's almost as many as there are poverty workers there."

By contrast, he was all earnestness at a veterans' home north of San Francisco. No jokes. No barbs at Brown.

At 55, he looks very much as he did in his hit films. He has a pretty wife, actress Nancy Davis, and two children, Pattie, 13 and Ronnie, 7. These are all political assets.

"A lot of people figured he would be pretty and pretty dumb," a politician said. "They've been surprised."

BROWN'S VIEW

Brown says this is the hardest of his three gubernatorial races. He won office in 1958, defeating former U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland and was re-elected in 1962, defeating former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Reagan will be tougher than either of them," Brown said. "But we've turned the corner now and we're on the way."

A recent poll, regarded by analysts as reliable, gave Reagan an edge at this stage but showed Brown gaining. The State Poll gave Reagan a rating of 45 per cent, Brown 41, and 14 listed as "don't know." Its comparable figures in June were Reagan 48 per cent, Brown 37 and "don't know" 15.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, says, "If Reagan can project the image of being a moderate, I think he can win. Vice versa, if they pin the extreme right-wing label on him, people will be leery, leery of extremism."

PRO-GOLDWATER

This touches on Reagan's recent political history.

He worked hard, speaking and fund-raising, for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate in 1964. Reagan delivered an election-eve speech of such power that Californians are still talking about it today—even the Democrats.

Like an echo of that campaign, Reagan said recently in a talk to a religious group in Fresno, "We want a policy based on what we know in our hearts is right." A Goldwater slogan of 1964 was, "In your heart you know he's right."

Reagan started as "a bleeding-heart liberal, a New Deal Democrat"—to use his own words. Today, he accepts the label, "conservative."

The wide swing in philosophy began, he says, during World War II when he was adjutant in an Air Force base. "I began having doubts then that government can operate as efficiently as a private organization," he said.

SAW ENGLAND

His doubts deepened, he said, in England after the war. He went there to make a movie. By that time, the Laborites had ousted Winston Churchill and started nationalizing some industries. "I didn't like the look of what was going on there," he said.

Reagan says he was one of the first to urge Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to run for president in 1948. To be sure, Eisenhower's party affiliations were unclear at the time. But his statements on national problems stamped him as a middle-the-roader.

When Eisenhower refused to run, Reagan said he campaigned for President Harry S. Truman. He says he voted for Eisenhower in 1952.

The final step in Reagan's transformation — in philosophy if not in party affiliation — came with the discovery of Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry.

Reagan, then president of the Screen Actors Guild, plunged into that fight. It brought him an insult sometimes seen in movies but seldom in real life. He said, "A fellow I knew —just an acquaintance — walked up to me on the street one day and spit in my face."

From time to time as he campaigns now, people ask Reagan why he refuses to disavow the John Birch Society. He replies, "I'm not a member of the Birch Society. I'm not planning to join. I don't agree with many of the things they say. But I'm not going to issue a blanket repudiation of a whole group of people."

At this stage of the campaign, political observers here consider the gubernatorial race neck-and-neck and, barring some wide-screen, technicolor blunder by either candidate, they think it will remain that way, right down to the wire in November.

Self-Made Man Elected Mayor

LONDON (AP)—Sir Roberts Bellinger, who left school at 14 and started out as an office boy, today was elected the 639th lord mayor of London.

"The idea that only the extremely rich can be lord mayor is wrong," he commented.

Sir Roberts, 56, a successful merchant, insists "I'm not all that wealthy."

Economy Experts See Business Dip By 1970

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly three-fourths of the country's industry economists foresee a recession by 1970 and half of that group expect it to start next year, the National Association of Business Economists reported today.

A poll of members, made public at the start of NABE's annual meeting, showed general expectation that next year will bring continued expansion, but at a slower rate than in 1966 or 1965.

The experts who guide industry's investment, price, and purchasing policies forecast a 1967 national output of $781 billion, 6 per cent above this year's estimated $737 billion. The expected rise of $44 billion would compare with about $56 billion this year, the association said.

"A major factor in next year expected growth will be rising defense expenditures, while business capital spending is forecast to peak at about mid-year," said Charles B. Reeder of the Du Pont company, vice president of the association. He added:

"The most important economic problem facing the country in 1967 will be control of inflation while maintaining growth and avoiding a recession."

A slower rise in prices was foreseen. The NABE members forecast a rise of 2.5 per cent in consumer prices from the final quarter of this year to the last quarter of 1967, compared with 3.6 per cent in the preceding 12 months.

Corporate profits are expected to reach their peak in the second quarter of 1967, then decline slightly for the rest of the year.

Half the industry advisers felt that the government's policy affecting credit and money supply was "about right" and 30 per cent thought it "too restrictive."

But their comments on the administration's fiscal policy were overwhelmingly critical.

When asked if they expected a recession between 1966 and 1970, 72 per cent said yes. Half this group, or between 35 and 40 per cent of the NABE membership, expected it to start in 1967—perhaps in the third quarter.

Three Miles of Wire Stolen In Australia

MELBOURNE (AP)—Thieves have been busy on the telephone line between Guildford and Daylesford in Central Victoria — stealing it.

In recent weeks nearly three miles of the copper line has been snipped from the poles. Police say the high price of copper is the reason for the continuing thefts.

Civilians Endure Viet Nam Battles

A Ross surgeon, who has treated wounded and burned South Vietnamese civilians, said last night they take it philosophically.

The Vietnamese have been living with war for 20 years, and "it's a kind of a way of life," according to Dr. Edward S. Vanderhoof.

He told of his two-month experience in South Viet Nam at the annual meeting of the Marin Chapter, American Red Cross, at Peacock Gap Country Club, and drew murmers from the audience when he showed color slides of the wounded.

Civilians take quite a drubbing, but have become quite philosophical and don't act very disturbed, he said.

Dr. Vanderhoof spent last December and January in Rach Gia, at the southern tip of South Viet Nam, working as a member of the Project Viet Nam team of volunteer doctors aiding civilians.

One of his slides showed a woman who had been seriously burned by napalm bombs. Another showed two children who had suffered less severe burns.

After showing slides he said the viewpoint of Americans there on use of napalm bombs is that when the enemy is vicious, cunning and treacherous, he "has to be treated with the same unkindness."

He said innocent persons get hurt by napalm bombings, but it's inevitable."

Dr. Vanderhoof said Rach Gia, a provincial capital, was relatively secure, but the Viet Cong was operating in the surrounding countryside. In almost any part of the outskirts, you could hear shooting, day and night, he said.

If it weren't for the Project Viet Nam team of doctors, the civilians would have no medical care, he said. There are 700 doctors in the country, but 500 of them are with the military, leaving 200 doctors to serve a population of 15 million people, he said.

Dr. Vanderhoof said he worked in a 500-bed hospital constructed by France and staffed by local residents. He said there were only 20 Americans in the province of 500,000.

Red Cross Chapter Honors Volunteers, Elects Slate

Three Marin residents were awarded top honors for their outstanding service at the 54th annuel meeting of the Marin Chapter, American Red Cross, last night at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Elias S. Day of Terra Linda received the Henri Dunant Award given to the man volunteer who has performed outstanding service over a period of several years in more than one capacity.

Thomas Larke Jr. of Fairfax was named "Volunteer Man of the Year," and Mrs. George E. B. Hill of Kentfield was named "Volunteer Woman of the Year."

Elected to the chapter's board of directors were: Mrs. Walter G. Busse, Mrs. Douglas M. Christensen, Jack Herman, Mrs. Hill, Rev. Henry Kent, Frederick L. Krueger, Mrs. Clinton Lewis, Lawrence A. Lindberg, Mrs. Verne Macfarlan,, Mrs. Jordan Martinelli Jr., Mrs. Harry D. Rothrock, and Charles L. Van Horne for three-year terms, and Larke and Col. Charles Praul for one-year terms.

Certificates of appreciation were awarded to Mrs. J. Lyman Hurlbut, Larkspur, nursing service; Mrs. William D. Caddell, Belvedere, school health volunteers; Mrs. Julius Jacobson, San Anselmo, hospital and veterans hospital volunteer; Mrs. Andrew Kozak, Sausalito, Sausalito Study Center; Francis Burt, Kentfield, first aid instructor; Mrs. Christensen, Kentfield, social welfare aide; Mrs. Charles Quinn, San Anselmo, nursing and disaster service; Mrs. Russell F. Dwyer, Kentfield, first aid, water safety and small craft instructor.

Receiving awards for long service were Mrs. James Cassin, San Anselmo, Mrs. Douglas B. Cummings, Mill Valley, and Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy, 20-year bars; Mrs. Russell F. Dwyer, Kentfield, Mrs. Oscar Olson, San Rafael, and Mrs. H. D. Rothrock, San Anselmo, 15-year bars; Mrs. Robert C. Caughell, Mrs. Edward Heilig and Mrs. Joyce O'Connell, all of San Rafael, Virginia Hinshaw, Dr. John McGee and Mrs. Judy Shillinger, all of San Anselmo, and Mrs. Frank Newson, Kentfield, 10-year bars.

In the chapter's annual report distributed at the meeting, Mrs. William R. Eastman Jr., chairman, noted that the Viet Nam conflict brought increased demands upon the chapter.

"Acceleration of the war in Viet Nam naturally brought a sharp increase in the chapter's program of 24-hour-a-day help to servicemen and their families," reported Lee C. Wise, chairman of the service to military families.

The voices from home tape recording project was extended to a year-long project and a service wives club was started, he said.

The disaster service contributed $1,453 to four families who suffered flood damage during heavy rains in Marin last January, according to C. Donald Helbig, service chairman. Additional emergency assistance included food, clothing and shelter given to seven families who were burned out of their homes during the year, he said.

Treasurer George F. Mackenzie, who is resigning because of moving from the county, reported the chapter's income for the fiscal year ended June 30 was $97,529, and $34,443 was disbursed to the National Red Cross. This left $63,086 for the local chapter, but the local programs and activities cost $64,502, leaving a deficit of $1,416 for the fiscal year. The deficit was covered by reserve funds.

About 130 persons attended the dinner meeting.

A family man with two children must earn $13,234 today to equal the 1939 purchasing power of $5,000, according to the National Industrial Conference Board.

Dirksen Says Budget Test Rebuffed LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what Sen. Everett M. Dirksen called an anti-inflation test, the Senate has rebuffed President Johnson's plea to hold spending down to budgetary levels.

By a 65-3 vote the Senate passed and sent back to the House yesterday a $10.5-billion bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments.

Before the vote, Dirksen forced a test of whether the Senate was willing to cut the measure $390 million — the same amount its appropriations committee had added to budget requests.

He lost by a 40-24 vote the Republican leader said "shows who stands where on cutting spending" to cope with inflation. Of the 21 Republicans who voted, seven opposed Dirksen's move.

Dirksen told reporters that "Johnson ate me up" at a recent White House meeting about Congress' action in voting more funds than he had requested.

"I told him I would show him who is for reducing spending and who is not," Dirksen said.

As it turned out, 33 Democrats and 7 Republicans voted to sustain the higher spending level. Dirksen mustered four Republicans and 10 Democrats for his move.

Sponsors of the measure said the issue was not as clear cut as Dirksen tried to make it.

They noted that Johnson had cut deeply into such popular funds as college student loans, health research and aid to school districts with a high percentage of federal workers.

These three programs were increased by $529 million over the President's January estimates, the boosts being offset in part by reductions made in scores of other items.

The Senate's version of the bill was $100 million under the aggregate voted previously by the House, but contained $7.5 million to finance the national teacher corps operation in poverty-stricken areas. The House had denied any funds for this purpose.

The Senate votes failed to disclose any sign that Congress will reverse its trend and lop off the $3 billion Johnson contends it is in the process of appropriating above the amounts he asked.

They indicated instead that the President is likely to have to resort to withholding spending some of the funds Congress makes available if he intends to live within his $112.8 billion budget for the current fiscal year.

Chain Saw Stolen

Theft of a chain saw worth $265 from the Sausalito Yacht Harbor garage at 1315 Bridgeway was reported yesterday to Sausalito police. Ollie Nicholson, secretary for the harbor, said the saw had been taken sometime during the week end.

Betty Mobley To Have Showing

A one-man show of paintings by Betty Mobley will be held throughout October at the San Marin Club at 315 San Andreas Drive, Novato.

The show consists of 50 paintings in oil and acrylic. Two of these paintings were displayed at the Marin Art and Garden Fair and two at the Madonna Festival in Los Angeles for the past two years.

A reception and opening of the show will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the club.

New Superintendent To Be Chosen Monday

Trustees interviewed seven candidates at a closed meeting last night. The district received 42 applications to fill the vacancy left by resignation of Supt. Howard C. Harmon.

Norbert A. Schlei, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, will wind up an all-day campaign tour in the Bay Area Tuesday with a California champagne dessert reception at 200 Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley.

Arnold Greenberg will be host for the reception, scheduled to start about 9 p.m.

FINCH AIDES

Mrs. Alan Ewen of Belvedere has been named vice chairman of the Finch for Lieutenant Governor Committee, Edwin V. Grundstrom, Marin County chairman of the committee, announced today.

Mrs. Ewen is a former president of the Marin Federation of Republican Women and a former member of the Republican State Central Commttee.

STORER CONCERT

Two Marin County rock and roll bands will put on a benefit performance for Democratic congressional candidate Thomas T. Storer at 1 p.m. Saturday at California Hall, Polk and Turk Streets, San Francisco.

The bands are the San Andreas Fault Finders and the New Tweedy Brothers. Tickets will be sold at the door and at Storer headquarters, 922 Irwin Street, San Rafael.

CLAUSEN LUNCH

About 500 Marin Republicans are expected to attend a luncheon and reception for Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-First District) at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael on Oct. 14.

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, announced Congressman Clausen will fly from Washington to report on congressional actions to date.

"The only thing that might prevent the congressman from attending would be an important roll call vote in Congress on the last day," said Misner.

John D. La Noue, Marin finance chairman for Clausen, is in charge of the luncheon, which is scheduled for 12:15 p.m.

Misner also announced that he has appointed Mrs. Matt A. Graham of San Anselmo as chairman of the Clausen headquarters club at 1414 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

FASHION SHOW

A fall fashion show and champagne luncheon will be held in Kent Woodlands next Thursday noon by the Marin Women's Committee for Pearce Young, Democratic candidate for State Senate.

Elaine B. Guthrie, chairman, announced the event will be from noon to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Roger Kent.

Assemblyman Young, D-Napa and Solano, will speak on "Marriage and Family Relations."

Africa Adds New Nation At Midnight

GABERONES, Bechuanaland (AP) — Africa gets another nation one minute after midnight as the British protectorate of Bechuanaland becomes independent Botswana.

It will be the first black-ruled country to border white-ruled South Africa. Prime Minister Seretse Khama, who will be sworn in as president married a blonde British typist 18 years ago. They have four children.

Bechuanaland, ruled by the British since the 1880s, is bordered by South-West Africa, white-ruled Rhodesia and South Africa. It is an arid country dominated by the vast Kalahari Desert and the Okavango swamps.

Bechuanaland's economy is based on the export of cattle. Several years of drought has reduced its stock by nearly 500,000 head, or about one third of the total herd. About 30,000 of its 576,000 citizens work in South Africa, many of them in the gold mines.

Fairgroonds Corporation Study Set

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs will hold an executive committee meeting tonight at the home of Harold Stockstad in Marin City to discuss formation of a non-profit corporation to administer the county fairgrounds and veterans memorial auditorium at the Civic Center.

Edward J. Neumeier, chairman, said the council had originally suggested a fair commission appointed by the county board of supervisors, but now favors a non-profit corporation as suggested by County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The question of a fair commission or non-profit corporation will be discussed by supervisors next Tuesday.

Next regular meeting of the civic affairs council is set for 8 p.m. Oct. 26 at the Civic Center. An official of the State Division of Highways will be invited to discuss route 17, the east-west highway to connect Highway 101 with Point Reyes National Seashore.

Rain In South, But No Cooler

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Showers fell throughout Southern California during the night and the weatherman predicts continued cloudiness and dampness through tomorrow. The rainfall was blamed for power failures in the harbor area early today.

Despite the clouds and moisture the forecast called for continued hot weather, with 90 predicted for the Los Angeles area today. The maximum Wednesday was 90.

The weather disturbance brought thundershowers to mountain and desert areas and gusty winds in mountain and canyon areas.

Mercury Cougar is a true luxury car. With an ice-cool elegance. With a European flair and thrust to its styling. With a roomy, full-width rear seat! With standard features found, until now, only in expensive cars. Examples:

Sequential rear turn signals are standard! They flash in three steps (at the rate of 70 times a minute) to point the way you're turning.

Inside, vinyl-covered bucket seats, cushioned with molded foam, are standard! Wall-to-wall deep-loop carpeting, standard! 3-spoke steering wheel, standard!

And in a car this luxurious, you'd expect a V-8 engine. Cougar has it. A 289 cu. in. V-8. Compression ratio: 9.3:1. And it uses regular fuel.

When we say Mercury unleashes Cougar, we mean it. Cougar is a superb sports car. It moves on cat feet. Tracks true. Rides smoother, quieter.

The price? Less than you'd expect. At previews, people have overguessed by $1,000! We believe Cougar is the best-equipped luxury sports car for the money.

And at Cougar's price, you can indulge yourself in such better-idea options as: Styled steel wheels. 4-speed stick or "Mr. and Mrs." Select-Shift Merc-O-Matic that lets a man run it through the gears . . . lets his wife leave it in automatic. Also a 4-barrel Marauder 390 GT V-8. Vinyl-covered Oxford Roof. Sports Console.

Also: Tilt-Away steering wheel. Power disc-brakes up front. A finger-tip speed control mounted on the turn signal lever. But first: See Mercury Cougar. Untamed elegance. At your Mercury Man's, your Mercury dealer's.

Two Leads Develop In Slaying

CHICAGO (UPI) —Police followed two promising leads today in the baffling murder of Valerie Percy, 21-year-old daughter of Republican senatorial candidate Charles H. Percy.

Miss Percy was found stabbed and beaten to death in her bed in the family's suburban Kenilworth home Sept. 18. Despite an intensive investigation, police are still without a suspect, motive or murder weapon.

One of the new leads which developed yesterday was the disclosure that authorities had found a black wool glove with leather palm on the Percy estate the morning of the murder.

The wool of the glove was reported to be similar to the black wool fibers found in the second floor bedroom where Miss Percy was murdered and on a slashed screen door through which the killer is believed to have crept into the home.

The glove was small, and was for the right hand. The mate has not been found.

The other lead authorities were following today involved a special kind of hammer known as a "die marking hammer." It is normally used to mark lumber and metal and is seldom found outside industrial plants and lumber yards.

Cook County coroner Andrew Toman was attempting to determine whether such a hammer could have been the instrument used to shatter Miss Percy's skull.

At Least Six Dead, Forty Hurt In Desert Accidents

BLYTHE, Calif. (UPI) — At least six persons were killed and more than two score injured today in two separate accidents involving apparent farm laborers on remote desert highways near here.

In the first tragedy a semi-truck-trailer rig smashed into the back of a pickup-camper truck as both were westbound on U.S. 60 four miles west of this Colorado River community bordering Arizona.

When the occupants of the crowded pickup were thrown out, another westbound semi-truck-trailer swerved around the wreckage and smashed into the victims.

The dead were identified as four members of the Rodriguez family of Wapato, Wash.—Renie, 5; Lupe, 9, Hermina, 12, Celia, 15—and Francisco Hernandez, 18. The 12 injured, mostly children, were also members of the Rodrigues and Hernandez families. The Hernandez family was also from Wapato.

The truck sped on west without stopping and Riverside County sheriff's deputies and the patrol threw up a road block over a wide area of the vast desert area of Southern California.

A short time later truck driver Lawrence James Welsh, 23, Phoenix, was stopped at the outskirts of Indio. Bloodstains were found on the truck, officers said.

The suspect, who was held on an open charge while being questioned, told officers he thought he had driven through a bunch of luggage scattered from the wreck. Officers said the suspect, a driver for the Mutual Wholesale Liquor Co., had been drinking.

A short time later in the still dark night, a bus carrying farm laborers overturned about 40 miles south of here on California 78 in adjoining Imperial County.

The patrol said at least one man was killed and possibly 18 injured when they were trapped in the overturned bus. All the victims were believed to be Mexican nationals imported for farm labor.

Margaret Lucas To Head Agency

Margaret Lucas of Tiburon, personnel director for Bechtel Corp., will head Marin County's new personnel commission.

Robert D. Elliott, county personnel director, reported today that Miss Lucas was elected chairman at the first meeting of the new commission Tuesday in the Civic Center.

She is the only carry-over member from the former commission, which was headed by Julius Selinger until his resignation in August.

Former Politico Accused Of Fraud

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Herbert John (Jack) Grassie Jr., 30, Colorado, former president of the San Diego Young Republicans, was charged yesterday with embezzling $30,000 from his former employer.

The information filed against him by Asst. U.S. Atty. Shelby Gott resulted from an FBI investigation.

The information alleged Grassi fraudulently prepared a mortgage loan last April 13 on property belonging to another person and converted the money to his own use.

Peyrefitte To Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—Alain Peyrefitte, French minister of scientific research and atomic and space problems, arrived in Moscow today to discuss closer French-Soviet cooperation in science. Peyrefitte will stay in the Soviet Union 15 days and visit the Academy of Sciences branch at Novosibirsk in Siberia.

Holm To Chair New Committee

John Holm of 10 Idlewood Drive, San Anselmo, was named chairman of the San Anselmo schools Citizens Committee at a meeting of the new committee last night.

The group was organized to plan a building program for the school district and find ways to finance the program. About 24 attended last night.

Next meeting will be Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School. The committee will meet on Wednesdays every two weeks after Oct. 19.

How much safety do you want for your money?

Financial safety comes in all shapes and sizes. There are safe investments and risky investments—and ones that are in between. Depending upon how much risk you want to take, your money can be invested in a variety of ways.

Your savings, however, are another thing. This is money you do not want to risk—no matter how safe the investment appears. This is money you want to be able to count on at all times and under all conditions. And when you want your money that safe and that available—you want it in the bank.

Extremist Maddox Wins In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Lester G. Maddox, an ardent segregationist running a shoestring campaign, has captured the Democratic nomination for governor — upsetting a moderate candidate and Georgia's middle-road racial course.

Maddox, a furniture merchant who quit the cafeteria business rather than serve Negroes, decisively defeated Ellis G. Arnall, a former governor, in yesterday's primary runoff. Arnall had led a six-man race two weeks ago.

"God and the people are my campaign managers," exulted Maddox, 50, after pulling off a major upset without big-money backers or the support of high-ranking politicians.

LESTER MADDOX
Refused to serve Negroes

A fiery opponent of the federal government, President Lyndon B. Johnson, liberalism, socialism and communism, Maddox says he shares the racial views of Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. But Maddox said very little about racial issues in his campaign.

Arnall, 59, who scored a major upset two decades ago to win the governorship over the popular Eugene Talmadge, had charged in the runoff fight that Maddox was radical and extremist, a man whose symbols were ax handles and pistols.

Maddox, in resisting integration in 1964 and 1965, once waved a pistol to chase Negroes from his place and provided ax handles for white patrons. When ordered by a court to serve Negroes, Maddox quit the cafeteria business.

Arnall met Maddox to concede personally. Some followers of Arnall said Republicans voted for Maddox as the easier opponent for their nominee in November.

Taking on Maddox in the first Georgia two-party contest for governor since Reconstruction will be Rep. Howard H. Callaway, the state's lone Republican congressman, a conservative ex-Democrat who helped carry the state for Barry Goldwater in 1964.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who lives in Atlanta, said the voting "revealed that Georgia is desperately competing with Mississippi for the bottom."

Following Many Tries, Mahoney Wins Election

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "I can't help but feel deeply indebted to the voters of Maryland," said George P. Mahoney. "Someday, I'll be in a position to work for them."

That was in 1957. It was after he had failed twice for the Democratic nomination for governor and twice lost to Republicans for the U.S. Senate.

He tried again for governor in 1958 and for the Senate in 1960 without success.

Now Mahoney, 64, has achieved a measure of success.

Rep. Carlton R. Sickles, D-Md., conceded yesterday that Mahoney, an opponent of open housing legislation, won the Democratic nomination for governor of Maryland in the primary Sept. 13.

Most North State Fires Under Control

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State Division of Forestry firefighters, plagued by high temperatures and gusty winds, have contained numerous brush and grass fires in northern California.

An estimated 700 men aided by 14 aerial tankers stopped the widely scattered fires, said fire information officer Dave Gearhard.

Farther north, Mendocino and Lake counties reported four blazes, all small and contained in grassy woodland.

A small brush fire threatened fashionable homes in the Silverwood subdivision between Orinda and Lafayette in Contra Costa County, but firemen stopped it before any home damage was done.

Gearhard said most of the fires were incendiary, and others were caused by vehicle exhausts, careless burning and smoking and by children playing with matches.

S.P. Loses Round In Death Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state District Court of Appeal has ruled that, if a jury so decides, the Southern Pacific railroad may be found liable for lack of seat belts in a company owned car.

The ruling yesterday grew out of a $175,000 law suit brought by Mrs. Robert J. Mortensen, after her 61-year-old husband was thrown from a SP-owned pickup truck and killed in an accident near Pismo Beach.

The pickup was rammed from behind by another driver, who later was declared to be intoxicated.

The appeals court said that the law suit should not have been dismissed by Superior Judge Byron Arnold. Arnold had Ruled that Mrs. Mortensen had shown no negligence on the part of the SP and therefore the case should not be submitted to the jury.

Falklands Still British Despite 18-Man Invasion

BUENOS AIRES, Arg. (AP) — Britannia still ruled the little Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic today despite an invasion by 18 young Argentine nationalists who hijacked an airliner with 48 persons aboard and forced it to land on a racetrack in the Falkland capital.

The four-engine Argentine DC4 was stranded on the 3,600-foot racetrack, with one wheel stuck a foot deep and the track apparently too short to permit a safe takeoff with passengers and fuel aboard.

The hijackers were reported holed up in the airliner, while the 25 other passengers and five crew members were lodged in homes in Port Stanley, the Falkland capital.

The armed extremists from the rightwing El Condor organization seized the plane over the South Atlantic yesterday to emphasize Argentina's claim to the bleak islands some 300 miles east of Tierra del Fuego.

Argentine and British officials had not decided early today how to get the hijackers and other passengers, who include three children back to Buenos Aires. They could come on a British ship which sails Monday on a monthly voyage from Port Stanley to Montevideo, Uruguay, or smaller planes might be sent to get them.

The hijacking coincided with the presence in Buenos Aires of Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, who arrived Monday to attend the world horse jumping championships as the guest of Argentina's military president, Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania.

The airliner, which is owned by the Argentine government, was flying from Buenos Aires to Rio Gallegos, 1,700 miles to the south, when it was seized. Among the leaders of the hijackers was Maria Cristina Verrier, 27, who owns a small theater in Buenos Aires. The plane landed on the racetrack because Port Stanley has no airstrip.

Britain has held the Falklands since 1833 and rejected all Argentine demands that they be relinquished. They are a refueling station for the British South Atlantic fleet and a staging post for Antarctic surveys.

About 2,000 persons—most of British origin—live on the two main islands, East and West Falkland which have a total area of 2,700 square miles.

Vanderbilt Heir Sues Ex-Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. has filed suit to enforce two court orders issued in New York against his ex-wife.

Vanderbilt's attorney said the suit filed yesterday is based on New York court orders that Patricia W. Vanderbilt pay her former husband $7,575 and stop using his name.

Vanderbilt, 68, lives in Reno, Nev., and Mrs. Vanderbilt, 46, in Beverly Hills, the suit says.

The couple married in 1948, were divorced in 1953. She was his fifth wife.

seniority plus effectiveness equals Senator Jack McCARTHY

Seniority is a near necessity to be most successful in the State Senate. Add to this — ability, persuasion and determination and you have a man who gets things done. Jack McCarthy is that type of Senator. His broad record of accomplishments are a testimonial to his effectiveness. When re-elected in November, he will be fourth in seniority. A recognized leader of the Senate, he will not only represent his district (Marin, Napa and Solano) well but be the North's best defense against Southern California numerical domination.

Marin Scholars Gain Semifinalist Standings

Thirty-six Marin County high school seniors have been named semifinalists in the 1966-67 National Merit Scholarship competition.

They were among the highest-scoring students in California on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, administered last spring in 17,500 schools nationwide. More than 14,000 semifinalists were named across the country.

The students represent the county's most intellectually able young people, said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

They can advance to finalist status by taking another test, and submitting additional information. In past programs at least 97 per cent of semifinalists have become finalists, and eligible for 2,250 college scholarships.

Semifinalists include:

Tamalpais High School: Linda C. Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Cook, 403 Magee Avenue, Mill Valley; Kristine Dilcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dilcher, 347 Marin Avenue, Mill Valley; Charles McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Shistar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shistar, 3 Wellington Avenue, Ross; James L. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wright, 12 Garden Road, San Anselmo.

In addition to naming semifinalists, the National Merit Scholarship competition has awarded letters of commendation honoring students who scored in the top 2 per cent of the nation in the qualifying test, just below the 14,000 semifinalists.

Marin students who have received such letters include:

San Domenico School for Girls: Kate Adams, Andrea L. Boussy, Kevin M. Brown, Angela M. Errigo, and Linda B. Ferguson.

San Rafael High School: Garrick Byers, Norbert H. Dall, Nancy Dodd, Roger Park, Joseph Riekena, Brett Rogers, Hatte Rubenstein, Robert Ryan, Phillip Salin, Kenneth Waxman, and Jacqueline Deane.

Marin TB Group Needs Volunteers

Typists, address checkers and label-stickers are needed, according to association president Mrs. L. W. Waldon.

"Nearly everyone has a few spare hours a week — hours that can be of immeasurable benefit to our community if they are spent fighting tuberculosis and emphysema," she said.

Inez Strikes Southern Tip Of Hispanola

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Hurricane Inez smashed at the southern tip of the Dominican Republic's Barahona peninsula today on a course that could spare the rich, sparsely populated farming district 110 miles east of here.

The National Meteorological Service located the storm, bearing 160-mile winds, 45 miles south and east of the peninsula at 5 a.m.

Dominican navy headquarters here reported at 6:30 a.m. that strong winds and rain squalls had swept across the peninsula, and that there had been no reports of damage or casualties.

Commercial communications with Barahona were cut off but the navy and army had contact through shortwave radio

TOLL REACHES 23

The storm's toll climbed to 23 dead as latest reports from Guadeloupe came in. The storm, which struck that island Tuesday, also reported 500 injured and 10,000 homeless.

Havana Radio warned residents of Cuba's southern coast, north of Jamaica, to be wary of the storm, whose highest winds increased from 150 miles an hour to 160 during the night.

Court Challenges U.S. On Vegas Wiretaping

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A federal court has ordered the government to disclose its use of information obtained by electronic eavesdropping at a multi-million dollar hotel - casino on the Las Vegas Strip.

The court also ordered the government yesterday to disclose whether it eavesdropped at the home of Las Vegas gambler Morris B. (Moe) Dalitz, a major owner of the casino, the Desert Inn.

Dist. Judge Roger D. Foley Jr. demanded the information in granting part of a bill of particulars requested by Dalitz and his accountant, Eli Boyer of Los Angeles, both charged with income tax evasion and conspiracy.

In arguing for disclosure of the eavesdropping information, Dalitz' attorney, Bruce I. Hochman of Los Angeles, said, "Fruits of tainted material cannot be used before the trial court."

Hochman said any evidence acquired by the government through electronic eavesdropping or developed from leads acquired by the eavesdropping should be suppressed .

The Federal Bureau of Investigation told a federal court in Denver last June it hid a microphone in the Desert Inn in 1962. The FBI said information of "criminal and unlawful activity" was heard.

Dalitz and Boyer are charged in a federal grand jury indictment claiming Dalitz received Turbo Dynamics Corp. stock in lieu of interest and for arranging a $50,000 loan from Atlandia, S.A., a Panamanian firm.

Reward Offered For Lost Plane

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — A $25,000 reward has been authorized for information leading to the location of a light plane carrying four Californians that vanished Sept. 7.

An Edmonton law firm said the F. N. Crawford Lumber Co. of Ukiah, Calif., made the authorization yesterday.

Missing are Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Crawford, and Vic Roach of Ukiah, and H. Maize of Willits. Their twin-engined Cessna flight from Fort Smith in Canada's Northwest Territories to Edmonton.

The Crawford's son, William, said he felt those missing could have survived the crash. He said they had plenty of food and were accustomed to the outdoors. The official search ended last Sunday.

Court Rules KKK Right To Stupidity

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan has court permission to organize in California and the attorney general is considering his next move.

"People have a constitutional right to be stupid, and if they want to put sheets over their heads and act like children, they have that right," Superior Court Judge Ralph Nutter said yesterday.

He was explaining why he denied a petition by Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch to prevent the Klan from doing business in the state.

Klan spokesmen say the organization they are forming is not associated with the Georgia-based Ku Klux Klan banned in California 20 years ago.

"In a question of constitutional rights—if there is a case of doubt — the court must sustain those rights," Judge Nutter said.

Lynch said later his staff will review the decision to determine whether to take further action.

Postal Truck Burns At Fire Hall Door

A mail delivery truck from the San Anselmo Post Office caught fire in front of the San Anselmo Fire Department yesterday at 4:10 p.m.

Cause of the fire, which destroyed the truck's wiring, was not known. Curtis Shadduck was the driver.

Veteran, Two Newcomers Chosen For Second Apollo

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A veteran of two space trips and a pair of newcomers have been picked to fly the second three-man Apollo mission in the nation's drive to land men on the moon by 1969.

Crewmen for the flight to last up to 14 days in earth orbit are Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham, one of the civilian spacemen.

Their trip, scheduled for next spring, will be the second in the series of practice missions in the roomy Apollo spaceship, like the one to some day carry men on a lunar landing mission.

The first three-man voyage, also to last up to two weeks, currently is set for mid-December. The pilots are Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee.

Schirra, one of the original seven Mercury astronauts named in 1959, will be taking his third trip into space. At 43, he is the oldest of the nation's spacemen.

He flew a six-orbit Mercury mission Oct. 3, 1962, then teamed with Lt. Col. Thomas Stafford on Gemini 6 last Dec. 15 for the history-making rendezvous flight during which they caught Gemini 7.

Cunningham, 34, and Eisele, 36, became astronauts at the same time, in October, 1963, and neither had previously been assigned to a prime flight crew.

Humphreys Move So Hubert Can Come Home For Lunch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hubert H. Humphreys are joining the ranks of of city cliff dwellers and moving into a fancy high-rise apartment near Capitol Hill.

One of the reasons? So Humphrey can go home for lunch.

"This is something we've thought about for a long time," Mrs. Humphrey said in an interview. "We're excited about the move."

The vice president and his wife plan to move within the next month, but say, "We're taking our time."

There's decorating, for instance. "I haven't had time to give it much thought," Mrs. Humphrey said.

She plans to use furniture from their pleasant two-story three-bedroom home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md., for the apartment.

The new apartment is on the eighth floor of a nine-story cooperative in southwest Washington, along the Potomac River. A cooperative is an apartment in which tenants buy space as one would purchase a house.

The Humphreys haven't disclosed the price, but similar apartments range in the $60,000 to $75,000 bracket.

Congress has voted $750,000 for an official home for the vice president on the Naval Observatory grounds next to the British Embassy. But President Johnson and Humphrey decided to delay spending the money because of the cost of the war in Viet Nam.

The Humphreys have sold their Chevy Chase house to a realty firm. It had a reported value of $40,000, but the sale price was not revealed.

They moved into it 18 years ago when Humphrey became senator.

Race Violence Continues After St. Louis Shooting

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — An unruly crowd roamed the streets in downtown St. Louis last night throwing objects at cars and store windows after a demonstration at police headquarters.

Police estimated the mob at 100 persons, and said most were Negro youths. They were dispersed. Several car and store windows were shattered. A fireman was struck on the chin by a rock.

It was the fourth straight night of demonstrations by small crowds in St. Louis. Picketing of police headquarters began Sunday night in protest of the fatal shooting over the weekend of a Negro youth, Russell Hayes, 24, of East St. Louis.

A detective shot him while he was in custody. Police said Hayes threatened officers, and bolted while being taken to headquarters for questioning in a holdup.

Two Auto Fires At Same Time

Two car fires started almost at the same time in San Anselmo yesterday.

A backfire started a fire in the car of Robert Fouts of 1 Tappan Court, Sleepy Hollow, in the parking lot of Sir Francis Drake High School, causing $100 damage.

Firemen answered that call at 3:42 p.m., and were still there when a call came at 3:55 p.m. that a car was burning at 70 Greenfield Avenue. Damage was estimated at $25 to the car of Jensen Ebert, 123 Bungalow Avenue, San Rafael. A broken gas line started that fire.

Fire Protection District Seen As City-County Of Marin Move

Success or failure of the proposal to form a county-wide services area for fire protection may determine the fate of the long-discussed idea for a city and county of Marin.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, speaking on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today, compared the proposal to a baby's first steps: "If he succeeds, this could be a step in one direction or another. And it could be a step into 11 or 12 cities taking over the entire county."

DRAFTS REPORT

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows, who drafted the report on the county-wide fire services area for supervisors, said there was "no conspiracy" through the proposal to lead to a city and county of Marin, "but if we cannot reach some degree of popular response in consolidation of fire districts I do think a City and County of Marin proposal would be even more difficult."

Alto Fire Chief Carl O. Heynon said firemen were confused and alarmed over the proposal because nothing had been put in writing.

"Progressive thinking of some of the fire districts has resulted in better equipment than some cities have," he said. "The fire districts of Alto and Novato, for instance are now rated class four by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which results in a discount of 60 per cent in fire insurance for taxpayers."

SQUEEZE PLAY

Heynon claimed "the whole plan has been a squeeze play by some city managers to take the fire protection away from some areas outside their cities and then get them annexed to regain fire protection."

"We have an ambitious young administrator who wants to take away what we have built up for his own empire," said Heynon, saying that if the county administrator is thinking of a city and county of Marin, "he should say so, but don't disguise the issue."

Supervisor Kettenhofen said the proposal would not materially alter existing fire districts. "The organizations as they are set up today would remain. The county department and equipment that now fights fires in the open areas would remain assigned to these," he said.

"But take a district now, and say one subdivision of high density adjoins it and doesn't have fire protection. This particular subdivision would be incorporated into the county-wide fire protection area. "We would be picking up these other areas and making them pay for it."

NEEDS DISCUSSION

Fred C. Hannas, former Tiburon fire commissioner and volunteer firemen, said such a set up "with nine fire chiefs needs discussion; it's a fantastic approach."

Barrows countered that large cities have battalion chiefs under the fire chief.

In answer to a listener's question, Barrows said ranch lands of West Marin would be included in the services area, "but it is that the variable tax rate comes into play. They would not be taxed for structural fire protection."

During the program, which will be re-broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m., Supervisor Kettenhofen said there will be public hearings on the proposal "in order to put it in writing."

ORIGINAL REPORT

Barrows said his original report was "a broad based suggestion."

Hannahs said volunteer firemen, a significant feature of most fire districts, would not be willing to serve outside their own locations for a county-wide area.

"I would hope," said Barrows, "we could maintain the volunteer organizations."

New Unit Meets For Lagunitas

A steering committee to aid Lagunitas School District plan a new school meet for the first time last night and spent the time getting familiar with its role, said chairman Glen E. Twitchell.

"It was just a preliminary for getting down to brass tacks at our next meeting," he said. That is planned next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school.

A $240,000 bond issue and $300,000 state loan request will go before voters in November. If they are approved, the new school will be built adjacent to the present school off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Kentfield Library Is Moving

The Kentfield branch of the Marin County Library was moving today from its long time location near the Kentfield fire house to new quarters in the Bon Air Shopping Center.

The new library, to be called the Ross Valley branch, will be between Confucius Restaurant and Petrini's Market.

Opening date is not yet set because everything hinges on delivery of new shelving from Ames Co. of Milpitas, county librarian Virginia Keating said.

"Patrons are requested to use the Civic Center main library or the Corte Madera branch until we can announce the opening of the new library," said Mrs. Keating.

All shelving from the Kentfield Library has been moved to the new quarters, and books were being transferred today. The new site has 2,700 square feet of floor space, more than twice the former area.

Library hours at the new Bon Air branch will be increased, Mrs. Keating announced. They will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. five days a week, plus 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Mrs. Marie Duffee, librarian at the Kentfield branch, will continue in charge at the new location.

Councilman Witnesses An Arrest

Last night's meeting of San Rafael Council of Mayors and Councilmen turned out to be a scarcely routine affair for San Rafael Councilman Harry A. Barbier.

He was on his way home in a police car driven by Patrolman Martin J. Conlin when it gave chase after a speeding motorist.

Conlin and Barbier were westbound on Las Gallinas Avenue at 12:45 a.m. today when another car approached at a fast speed with undipped headlights. Conlin gave chase, pursuing driver Thomas W. Schalich, 41, into the driveway of his home at 135 Los Ranchitos Road.

Schalich refused to sign a citation. He was booked into Marin County Jail and released on $152 bail pending a hearing at Marin Municipal Court Monday.

Husband, Son Reported Missing

A 23-year-old San Rafael father and his 2-year-old son were reported missing from home yesterday.

Diane Evans of 1434 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, told police her husband, Michael Leroy Evans, and son Michael Lee Evans, had not been at home since Monday.

She told officers she and her husband had been discussing a possible divorce and he may have left with the child "in retaliation."

Trash Burning Ban Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — backyard trash burning in six San Francisco Bay Area counties will be forbidden if Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors follow the recommendation of their advisory council.

The council unanimously approved the ban yesterday. It was not known when the board of directors would consider the recommendation.

Counties affected would be San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda, Santa Clara, Contra Costa and Marin. The suggested date for the ban was Jan. 1, 1968.

Nobel Committee Eyes Peace Trek

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The chairman of the Norwegian committee which awards the Nobel Peace Prize said today it will study at a meeting Oct. 19 a proposal that it take a hand in efforts to get a settlement of the war in Viet Nam.

The chairman, Gunnar Jahn, said two Oslo intellectuals — Kjell Ride and John Engh — suggested in a letter that the committee appoint some internationally known persons in fields other than politics to go to Hanoi for an on-the-spot check of North Viet Nam's conditions for negotiations. Results would be relayed to Washington.

"The Nobel committee itself," Jahn said, "has no authority at all to go to North Viet Nam."

Starting today you can enjoy the Continental life '67 style.

Today people enjoy life more than ever. They can do more things than ever before, if they want to. Teach their children to ride. Enjoy boating. Own a good home—and even a second home.

And own a Lincoln Continental.

Continental is the luxury car that belongs in today's good life. Designed for the uncluttered taste of our times, it is engineered to be the best car America has to offer.

Inside the 1967 Continental you'll find a new design instrument panel. A new warning light cluster. A new lane-changing signal that operates at a touch. A new ventilation system that can change the air inside your Continental with the windows up.

Luxury options? Certainly. A power seat with a power adjustable headrest and new reclining feature. An improved automatic temperature control system. A new automatic speed control operated by a push button at the end of the turn-signal lever. And many more.

For 1967, Continental has also redesigned the configuration of the taillights and restyled the grille. But the basic contemporary design remains unchanged. We don't believe in change for the sake of change. A Continental idea that gives you lasting investment value.

It's a good car; built to the world's highest standards. Your Continental dealer invites you to see and drive the 1967 Continental. To discover how close you may be to owning a Continental. And to add the model of your choice to the good things in your life this year.

KENNETH C. SODERLUND
To be installed Saturday

Kenneth Soderlund Will Lead De Molay

Kenneth C. Soderlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Soderlund of 2140 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, will be installed as master councilor of Mill Valley chapter, Order of De Molay, Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

Other elected officers to be installed include Mark Lund of Terra Linda, senior councilor; Steven Dreyer of Greenbrae, junior councilor; Bob Blyberg of Terra Linda, scribe, and Nick Radu of Larkspur, treasurer.

Appointed officers to be installed are Kimber Van Oeveren of Terra Linda, senior deacon; Rusty Bell of Lucas Valley, junior deacon; Rick Berggreen of Lucas Valley, chaplain; Rusty Koehler of Lucas Valley, senior steward; Roger Tew of Marinwood, junior steward; Skip Platz of Mill Valley, marshal; Paul Harris of Corte Madera, sentinel, and Fred Crichton of Mill Valley, orator.

Preceptors are Doug Phillips, George Poynor, Nick Komons and Glen Phillips. Chapter representative is Bob Little, and the chapter sweetheart is Terry Powell.

Anti-Pollution Job Ordered In Mill Valley

The State Water Quality Control Board has ordered the City of Mill Valley to start $40,000 in sewer improvements by Jan. 1, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said yesterday.

The board ordered the improvements on Sept. 15, Balmer said, of the Ryan Avenue bypass and the Sutton Manor pump station. The board said financing for the improvements must be provided by Dec. 1, and construction completed by July 1, Balmer explained.

Lack of these facilities, the board said, has resulted in pollution of Richardson Bay during heavy rains.

Both projects are included in the $500,000 sewer improvement bond issue on the November ballot. If the bond fails, Balmer said, money for them will be diverted from another fund, perhaps the $70,000 fund for the proposed public safety building.

Bridge Possibilities

E. R. Foley, director of the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings, will present details of the studies completed thus far of future North Bay crossing possibilities at a meeting of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission Thursday at 9:45 a.m. in room 17437 of the new Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

High School Students See GM Science Show

"Previews of Progress," a 45-minute science show produced by General Motors Corp., was presented at San Rafael High School yesterday.

Included in the staged science show were: A simulated auto crash, with miniature models, showing the effect of seat belts; demonstrations of modern chemistry; a history of jet propulsion and an illustration of the principles of space navigation.

RACE RIOTS GET INTO CAMPAIGNS

Brown, Reagan, Briefly Note Situation, Turn To Other Issues As Main Subjects

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the San Francisco racial trouble was an issue in California's campaign for governor today.

Republican Ronald Reagan said "it is obvious that the governor has not profited at all from the experience of Watts and has done nothing to forestall future disturbances in possible trouble spots. He has made it obvious that new leadership is needed."

SLAP AT STAR

This came after Gov. Brown pointed out, in Newport Beach, how quickly he had acted in calling out highway patrolmen and National Guardsmen and said:

"I think it would be highly dangerous to have a motion picture star who has never played governor handling a situation like this."

Yesterday, Reagan addressed a Los Angeles Republican women's group, briefly, and then taped a television news conference for airing Saturday.

And, he spoke out on the fuss about the special fund banked for Republican State Chairman Gaylord Parkinson. Democrats said most of the $30,000 fund came from Reagan supporters. The fund also was criticized by some Republicans.

CLAIMED NEUTRAL

Reagan said, "Either we put the chairman on a salary or we turn to the tendency of the other party and put it in the hands of a little clique that is so wealthy it can devote full time (to the job)," Reagan told the GOP women.

In remarks prepared for his Seal Beach a ppearance today, Reagan called for lifting the earnings limit on retired persons collecting Social Security.

He called the limit "a discriminatory law which hurts those with little money."

Another visiting Democrat was to be in the state to help Brown. Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., planned to fly to San Francisco tonight for campaign appearances tomorrow through Sunday at San Francisco, Berkeley, Pleasanton, Los Angeles and San Diego County. Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., his older brother, plans a visit later. There is no firm date yet.

Brown's address last night, prepared for a Newport Beach dinner, and not delivered by Brown because of his flight to San Francisco, said:

"It has been hard to get a clear picture of Mr. Reagan's California."

Brown said Reagan's "handlers and motivational psychologists" have "a marketing problem."

'ATTITUDE ALIEN'

"Mr. Reagan's basic attitude toward California and its people is alien to the moderate, responsible California tradition built and carried forward by men like Hiram Johnson, Earl Warren, Goodwin Knight, George Christopher and a man named Pat Brown."

Meanwhile, Brown campaign officials released a statement which had Thomas W. Braden, president of the state board of education, as saying Reagan and Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, got their signals crossed on early school ages.

"It's the first case I've ever seen where the right hand didn't know what the right hand was doing," Braden said.

While sitting next to Rafferty, who had endorsed Reagan, the GOP candidate attacked Brown's proposal to start children in school at age 4, Braden said, while Rafferty also has supported school for 4-year-olds, on a voluntary basis.

Profs Blast Rafferty For Backing Reagan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Assn. of California State College Professors said today that state school chief Dr. Max Rafferty "displayed his contempt for education" by endorsing Republican Ronald Reagan for governor.

The professors' statement came in remarks prepared for a news conference.

The statement said Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, was making an accusation when he asked Reagan and Democratic Gov. Brown about "treasonable and immoral conditions" at the University of California's Berkeley campus.

"As a response to these alleged conditions, Mr. Rafferty has chosen publicly to endorse a man who is pledged, if elected, to conduct a sweeping investigation of the university," the professors said.

"Mr. Rafferty is asking for an instrusion in the educational process which would be much more damaging than anything that has happened at the university in recent years," the statement said.

"The university cannot function if it is racked by roving bands of investigators looking for sacrificial lambs to feed to those who are nourished, seemingly, only by public orgies of repenting heretics," the professors said.

Murphy Calls For Firing Of Shriver

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — R. Sargent Shriver should be dismissed as chief of the War on Poverty, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., said last night.

Murphy said of Shriver's efforts to fight the war on poverty: "Never has so much been spent for so little."

Murphy, speaking at a convention of the Assn. of Oregon Industries, a business group, said the administration has not done enough to bring American military power against the Communists in Viet Nam.

Murphy said that he thought Ronald Reagan would be elected governor of California, defeating Gov. Edmund G. Brown by some 350,000 votes.

He said the key issue in the California gubernatorial race is fiscal policy. "Taxes are too high and industry has been leaving the state," he said.

He made the remarks before and after his speech, which was read by his son, Dennis.

Working Mother Part 10

Enlisting Help From Others Is Secret Of Her Success

By LOIS BENJAMIN

Tenth of a series of 12 articles, based on the best-selling book, "So Want to Be a Working Mother!"

I asked 50 bona fide cases to send me their histories, accounting for every working, mothering minute of their troubled lives and confessing any fascinating thing that come to mind.

The histories led to what I only hope is a stunning, Eureka-worthy discovery in the field. Successful working motherhood, they indicated, has absolutely nothing to do with how well you can cope.

The copeless types—unstrung heroines of this brave new world of working motherhood—get to experience the high, keen thrill of trail blazing. They get to experience it just about every day, in fact, because if they don't blaze, they never get out of the woods.

The non-coper must develop a keen sense of how to get the best not only of, but also from everybody else. Since she knows she can't cope by herself, her greatest strength lies in letting the whole world know it.

But you'd better know how to choose and to use the people you need most: teachers, pediatricians, your mother-in-law, your husband, your kids, and all the friends you can get.

A TEACHER WILL have to be wooed and won over to your side before you need her. It won't hurt to confess, charmingly, that because you work you're extra sensitive about your children's school progress—and you can't help worrying about whether your job affects their school work, and how you can make sure it won't. Call the spades by their proper name ahead of time, and Miss Starbuck will be a great help if there is a real problem.

Your pediatrician needs wooing, too, but he'll be a lot tougher to win. Male pediatricians, alas, haven't much patience with the working mother or her special problems.

Look for a doctor who is willing to help you survive your kids' growing pains. No one can survive working motherhood without a qualified sympathetic listener — someone who is not just an authority on how many baby aspirins it takes to relieve a temperature, but who is willing to say, in clear, believable tones, "Relax, you're doing a peach of a job."

Now if you can't count on good old Doc for that sort of moral uplift, there's really only one other place outside your own home where they know how to make it — Grandma's.

It's often easier to make a sympathetic ear out of an in-law than someone in your own family. Close relatives may remember too well what a rotten little kid you were and might feel you deserve every problem child you get.

The mother-in-law, on the other hand, feels only one thing: a desperate need to be desperately needed by her daughter-in-law.

I realize that not every non-coper is geared to being best friends with her mother-in-law. If you've really given it the old college try, and lost, you've still got one trump card left: the king.

"WHAT HAS YOUR husband done for you lately?" is not an idle question. The biggest single failing of the non-coper is that she doesn't even try to cope with the idea of expecting solace from the nearest and dearest source of all. Stop asking him to help more around the house. You're overlooking the one thing he can really do better than you can; make you feel good.

Why do we go around thinking that the less our husbands know about our emotional stresses and strains, the better? I think we're nuts to reason that way. No husband in the world could possibly appreciate being excused from shoulder-to-cry-on duty.

THE LAST AND least predictable people to turn to for moral support and aid are the people you've never thought of in quite that way: your kids.

We needn't start training them to make beds on their second birthdays. But they certainly can help in meaningful, less technical ways. I'll never forget the Friday night I cried real tears and begged my children to let me sleep late Saturday morning. I didn't yell, or threaten, or spank. I just pleaded, on grounds of total exhaustion. On Saturday, my kids, then two and a half and four, came tiptoeing in about an hour and a half later than usual and whispered, "Time for breakfast now, Mommy?" They'd been playing quietly up in their room, and they were so proud of having let me sleep that they didn't stop bragging about it all day.

Grape Festival Time—

It's Grape Festival time in Marin.

Colorful balloons, gayly decorated booths, and a gayway of games will transform the modern decor of Northgate Shopping Center into a country fair Saturday when the 67th annual Sunny Hills Grape Festival opens its gates to a full day of festival frolic.

More than 50 booths sponsored by the 38 guilds of Sunny Hills will sell their wares to benefit Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo, a United Crusade agency for adolescent children with social adjustment problems. The guilds have been working the year 'round making creative products of plastic, fabric, glass, wood and straw, as well as preparing hundreds of homemade baked goods and canned foods.

Original paintings will be featured, too, as well as used books, antiques, used clothing, patio supplies, toys, and sporting goods.

Community organizations and groups will join the guilds to help raise funds for Sunny Hills. Some of the groups are San

Inmates from San Quentin have contributed several original paintings to be sold by Belvedere Guild No. 5, and the San Rafael Methodist Church women will be featuring their homemade potato salad.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of this year's Grape Festival, expects a record crowd because of the easy accessibility to the festival grounds and the unlimited parking facilities.

Gates open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. Festival grounds are located adjacent to the City of Paris at Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda.

Triple C Plans Synanon Program

"A Social Program: Its Aims and Achievements" presented by two members from Synanon will be the program for the Oct. 5, luncheon meeting of the Mill Valley Community Church Club.

Synanon Foundation is a private organization for former drug addicts who attempt to help each other on a voluntary basis.

The speakers will be introduced by the Rev. Gordon Foster, minister of the Community Church.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Julian Rice. Reservations chairmen are Mesdames John Bell and Joseph Bare. Child care will be provided.

GUILD MEMBERS have been working one year on items for the Grape Festival which will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. Mesdames J. Fitzhenry, left, Council member, and Jerry O'Brien of the Powder Puff Guild, put the finishing touches on a booth. Proceeds will benefit the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

Marin Women

Indian Valleyans To Be Guests At Golf Luncheon

Mill Valley Women's Golf Club members will entertain members of the Indian Valley Golf Club tomorrow for golf and luncheon at the Mill Valley Clubhouse. Also included will be five members of the Vallejo Golf Club from Mare Island.

Mrs. William May, golf captain, will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Kern. Mrs. Bill Brown, president of the Mill Valley club, has appointed to assist with luncheon arrangements Mesdames Hugh Cavalli, John Hurley, Philip Wagstaff, R. C. Carpenter and Helvetia Walker.

Serving fairway refreshments will be Mesdames O. J. Bruderer, John Greene and Lloyd Seitzinger and reservations chairman is Mrs. H. B. Farquhar.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Men Who Think Women Should Be Protected Are Hard To Replace

DEAR HELEN:

The other day my gentleman friend started to analyze me. He says I'm very free or loose with my morals because I will talk to anyone about sex.

I don't think that means anything, because sex is an interesting subject, and besides I only discuss it with my friends or his (mostly married). After all, the things we talk about are all in magazines and books and quite fascinating.

He also says, "A lady laughs to herself when she hears a dirty joke and doesn't let anyone know she has caught on." I say to pretend ignorance is too prissy.

To sum it up, Helen, what he is really saying is that men can do all the talking they want about sex, but a lady must pretend she's back in the 19th Century.

What do you say? Am I—SEX CRAZY?

DEAR S. C.:

No, but if your gentleman friend prefers you "prissy" you'd better do a little pretending or you may lose him. . . . And men who still think women should be protected are hard to replace these days.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a divorced mother of six teen-agers. I have met a swell guy with whom I work. He is also divorced and has children. I can almost feel myself falling in love with him, but I think he is afraid to ask for my company because of my children.

I'm afraid to show any signs that I'm interested. I have never until now even talked with another man. Do you think if I give him time he'll start noticing me?—I. M. W.

DEAR I.:

Not if you don't give him a spot of impetus, and let it be known you aren't anxious for a second marriage.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Don't you think Batman and shows like it are teaching our children violence? These horrible fights and the love of mayhem! I cringe every time I hear about this kind of thing on family television. — GRANDMOTHER

DEAR GRANDMOTHER:

Did the Katzenjammer Kids teach you disobedience? Did "Fe Fi Fo Fum" make you want to grind the bones of an Englishman? For that matter, do you really think there's a Jolly Green Giant or a White Knight?

Stop worrying. Kids know the difference, too.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My boy friend ran away from State School and we got married when I was 16. Then they caught him and he went back for six months. When he got out I knew I had made a big mistake, so we never lived together. My baby was four months old when I met this nice man and we got married.

Somebody told me my first marriage wasn't legal because I ran away and was under age, and he was a "fugitive." So I figured it was all right to marry again.

Now somebody else tells me I'm a bigamist. Can I get a divorce from one man while I'm married to another? Or am I really married?—C. L.

DEAR C.:

You need a lawyer to straighten out this tangle. Even though a marriage isn't "legal," an annulment is necessary before another marriage can take place. —H.

Hospital Needs Military Wives

Wives of active or retired servicemen are needed to serve as Red Cross volunteers at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, according to Mrs. Richard Blondin, base volunteer chairman, American National Red Cross.

The volunteers will serve in the clinic assisting staff with such duties as escort for patients, clerical assistance and patient registration.

A special training course will be conducted Oct. 11 and 12 at Hamilton Air Force Base. Classes will be from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

ON WITH THE SHOW

Bold lines and zingy colors marked the fashion show which was the highlight of yesterday's Ladies Play Day at the Tiburon Peninsula Club. Community Club Awards Meet Set On Tuesday

Organizational meetings for the Community Club Awards will be held on Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the San Rafael Improvement Club and at 2 p.m. at the Novato Community House, according to Hugh Turner, station manager of KTIM.

Mrs. Roberta Thorsen of Woodacre, who represented St. Cecilia's Women's Club last year in the campaign, is the new Community Club Awards chairman. The $2500, which is given to non-profit organizations, was won last year by the San Rafael Kiwanis, Women In Construction, Y-Wives, Legal Secretaries, Soroptimists, St. Anselm's Young Ladies Institute and Lions Clubs.

White-Baker Vows Traded In San Rafael Church Rite

The First Baptist Church in San Rafael was the setting on Sept. 3 for the wedding of Nancy Lee Baker and Clarence White of Novato.

Nancy the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cooney, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white satin and lace.

Mrs. Harold Bell of Boyes Spring was matron of honor wearing a street length dress in pink. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rose Partain, Doreen Orchard, Christine White and Denise Cooney, all of Novato. They wore matching dresses in pink and blue.

A reception was held at Cloud Five Restaurant in Novato.

Nancy was graduated from Novato High School and is the sister of Sandra Baker and Denise Cooney. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gotelli of Martinez.

Clarence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl White of Novato. He is the brother of Mrs. Partain, Mrs. Harold Bell, and Mrs. Mary Bowman, Christine, Danny and Gilbert White of Novato and Robert White of Windsor.

Shopping in the Village with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

You say your feet hurt, dear, after an afternoon of Shopping in the Village? . . . and enthusiasm wanes just outside the kitchen door? . . . then we suggest you take home a casserole dinner from L'ENTREE. These dinners are always enjoyed by family and guests alike . . . and any shopping chef will be delighted to eliminate kitchen time. Try Louis Reimer's delicious Beef Bourguignon or Lamb Curry . . . dinner for two includes salad and bread for $3.25. If you wish, add one of L'ENTREE'S imported or domestic wines for an extra touch of elegance.

Enjoy a leisurely browsing trip through The Village for fall fashions . . . wonderful hostess items for autumn entertaining . . . excellent restaurants . . . early Santa Shopping . . . or just a nice family outing. Shops are open Friday evening and Sunday afternoon for your convenience. Window shoppers welcome at STRAWBERRY.

. . . Exquisite little figurines for Christmas decorations at ALBERTA OF MARIN. A fine supply of supplies for all sorts of Christmas "makings" . . . beautiful ribbons, "jewels", sequins, "foliage" and braid . . . to name but a few items. Then too, there is the priceless item of inspiration, provided by ALBERTA'S own stunning creations.

Noticed pretty quilted cottons at K. MYERS FABRICS. These tiny prints are "big" this year for suits and at-home skirts . . . and make perfectly adorable robes for little girls. (. . . For big girls too, as Mother and Daughter outfits.) Sewing Santas take note.

Expectations look greater than ever this fall, according to the fall fashions we're admired at EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP. Found here . . . sportswear (many color coordinated separates) . . . at-home fashions . . . daytime, cocktail and evening dresses. Always high quality here (which does not have to mean expensive). This shop combines realistic prices with the latest fashions to produce wonderful "waiting wardrobes."

Still clucking about that marvelous flavor of the barbecued chickens at BERNSTEIN'S DELICATESSEN. This is a seasoning secret that keeps us returning again and again . . . and finding more and more ways to use these delicious birds. Brought home hot and eaten that way, they are great . . . as a cold luncheon or supper they're superb . . . on a picnic they are sensational . . . we are certain you'll discover a few "tricks" of your own, as soon as you discover BERNSTEIN'S barbecued chickens.

Hey, gang . . . don't miss the very special "special" at HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO. This old fashioned country store in Marin has canned their wonderful imported hard candies in their unique and so-attractive HICKORY FARMS cans, and placed an "old fashioned price" on them. These cans were designed by Tiburon artist, Robert Seitas . . . and are available in ten colors and three sizes. Candy-filled and ready to mail or stash away for Christmas, you can now buy the pint size (½ lb.) for 98c, quart size (1 lb.) for $1.69 and a glorious gallon (3½ lbs.) for $3.49. Buy now and "gift" later! Note: New winter store hours at HICKORY FARMS . . . 10 A.M. to 7 P.M., seven days a week.

The boot is "in" and new fall boots are in at THE SANDAL. There is a black suede number with patent, spat-look trim . . . another with that kicky new Continental sole is cuddled next to a spiffy model with toreador heel (wouldn't you know!). Making the scene real soon will be laced-up Granny Boots . . . how a-boot that!

New collars at MUTTS OF MARIN . . . imported from Austria, these leather collars sport a tiny pocket for a dime and an address (when you travel with Fido and Fifi, you can enclose the name of your motel so, hopefully, someone will phone you if your pooch wanders.) Lots of colors and sizes and decorations to choose from . . . we like the one with the tiny lady bugs marching around it, but you may prefer those baguette cut rhinestones.

New name for a lovely and quite new Village shop. Internationale, Ltd. is now de BEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. This spacious store features fine jewelry and gifts and is located next to Robert Banks, Ltd. de BEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. offers a complete Bridal Registry for such famous brands as Gorham, Wallace, Lenox, Dansk and Franciscan-Ware. The jewelry in this store is absolutely exquisite . . . marvelous selection of engagement, wedding and dinner rings . . . imported costume jewelry . . . cultured pearls . . . jade and other rare gems . . . as well as fine watches. We are intrigued by these watches at de BEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. . . . besides an excellent choice of classic-style wristwatches for men and women, they have some elegant and highly unique watch-brooches. As a "for instance," a small, polished gold beetle whose wings part obligingly to tell the time of day. de BEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. will be open until nine each weekday through Christmas . . . shopping Santas will like their layaway plan, as well as their tres belle bijouterie et tres beau cadeau.

Chris Gartman, genial manager of The HICK'RY PIT, pointed out his new pantry in the dining room. We are told this is to provide even better service for their many patrons. Both food and service here have always impressed us . . . we like the varied menu and the friendly, efficient manner of the waitresses at this informal, family eatery.

"Pass the cigars!" . . . for another new arrival at HAPPY HOUSE. This is the beautiful (and practical) Copcoware from Denmark. Made of cast iron with a combination white and colored enamel exterior, (choice of four colors) . . . you'll find skillets in two sizes, covered casseroles in three sizes, a capacious, rectangular baking dish that's perfect for Lasagna, a three-bowl hors d'oeuvres tray and a butter or sauce warmer with it's own "candle caddy." Happily handsome kitchenware from HAPPY HOUSE.

CAPRICORN BOOKS invites you to meet Rev. Malcolm Boyd on Saturday afternoon, October 1st, between two and three-thirty. Rev. Boyd will autograph copies of his best-seller "Are You Running With Me Jesus?" You will also be able to purchase the Columbia recording of Rev. Boyd reading his prayers from his book. Both this author and his book seem to have stirred up considerable controversy. CAPRICORN BOOKS will be serving liquid refreshments, with side orders of food for thought, on Saturday, October 1st. You are invited to partake of both and meet Rev. Malcolm Boyd.

Fascinating collection of charms at VILLAGE JEWELERS. A new-to-us charm is the gold or silver disk that carries a permanent reproduction of your favorite photograph. This is a perfect gift for grandmothers and sure to make a hit with wives, mothers and sweethearts too . . . plan on two to three weeks for delivery of these orders. Another unique charm noticed here . . . a tiny carved jade elephant.

Looks like good times are in store, due to the special price now on Early Times Bourbon at VILLAGE LIQUORS. For a limited time you can buy the ½ gallon size of Early Times for $10.95 . . . or $59.13 a case (of six ½ gallon bottles.) Best Bourbon buy we've heard in a long time. Cheers!

We'd like to remind you about the daily luncheon specials at KUBLAI KHAN. For about $1.50 you can lunch elegantly in equally elegant surroundings. As an example, the day we dropped in, luncheon included Soup du Jour, Tea or Coffee and a choice of the following entrees—Pineapple Chicken, Shrimp de Cantonese, Prime New York Cut Steak Sandwich or Gim Wah Chicken.

Sparerib And Bacon Prices Going Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Last winter, when the little pigs stayed home on the farm, bacon climbed to $1.19 a pound in some areas. Now the number of pigs is up 7 per cent from last year, more are going to market, and a New York supermarket chain is selling bacon for 79 cents.

Pork chops are down 10 cents a pound to $1.09 in the New York area. Loins are down 2 to 3 cents on the West Coast, and spareribs as much as 6 cents.

One way to take advantage of the lower pork prices is to buy half of a pork loin and have your butcher cut off some pork chops. Properly cut, you may get spareribs and pork chops, and have enough left for a one-meal pork roast.

Other meat supplies also are increasing, but the prices remain high.

There may be some easing of beef prices in October, reflecting larger supplies. Fresh steer loins dropped 2 to 3 cents this week in California. Rounds were up slightly in the Pacific Northwest.

Many markets are featuring chicken and turkey.

Fryers dropped 1 to 2 cents a pound on the West Coast this week. At a New York area supermarket chain they are 6 cents less than they were two weeks ago.

Marin Women

Marcia Brown Is Bride Of Norbert Michael Murray

Norbert Michael Murray III of San Anselmo claimed as his bride, Marcia Dean Brown of Pensacola, Fla., in an afternoon ceremony performed on Sunday at St. John's Church in Ross.

Given in marriage by her brother, Elmer Frank Brown of Houston, Tex., Marcia wore a street length dress of white crocheted lace. Mrs. Frederick Stevens Allen of Ross was matron of honor and Pamela Murray of San Anselmo, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

Brother of the bridegroom, William Belden Murray of San Anselmo, acted as best man and ushering were Second Lts. Delbert Howell of Rogue River, Ore., and Larry Lentz of Encino and also Victor Nels Larsen of San Anselmo.

The bride, who is employed with Fisk Tire Co. in Anaheim, attended Pensacola Technical School. She is the sister of Mrs. Vincent Tesulou of Pensacola.

Norbert attended Sir Francis Drake High School, University of Wisconsin and University of California. He is a second lieutenant aviator with the U.S. Marine Corps Air Force stationed at Santa Ana. Mesdames Norbert Murray of San Rafael and August Belden of Kentfield are his grandmothers.

Pinned Collars Are 'In' Thing

You'll be seeing more pinned collars on shirts than have been in evidence for some time. Advantage is that the new collars can be worn with or without pins. . . . The men's shoe industry believes that its new high-heeled, zipper-back boots will be a big favorite with the teen-age Mod trade. They feel, too, that the "boot look" is due for acceptance by men. . . . The country squire group will not have to sacrifice comfort with their new tweedy, textured sports jackets — in the new lightweight silk-and-wool and silk-and-worsted tweeds.

Classy Brass

Brass buttons have made it to the classy wear. They march, double breasted, down the front of a black mink coat, pelts worked horizontally.

Cathryn Lenia Ingram Weds Edd C. Sullivan In Fairfax

St. Rita's Catholic Church in Fairfax was the setting on Sept. 17 for the afternoon wedding of Cathryn Lenia Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Ingram of San Rafael, and Edd C. Sullivan of Woodacre.

The Rev. Matthew Sullivan performed the 2 o'clock ceremony for which Lenia wore a full length sheath of white silk organza over taffeta with court length train.

Her sister, Mrs. Grove W. Hill of Sacramento, was matron of honor and Toni Davis of San Rafael attended as bridesmaid. Both wore A-line gowns of emerald green saki.

Earl Sullivan of Malibu acted as best man for his brother and ushers were Don Ingram of Mill Valley, brother of the bride, and Grove Hill of Sacramento.

A reception was held at the Woodacre Improvement Club. Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno, the couple will live in Forest Knolls.

The bride, who was graduated from Tennyson High School in Hayward, is employed with Marin County Recorder's office. Donald Ingram of Mill Valley and Douglas Ingram of Sunnyvale are her brothers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Sullivan of Grand Rapids, Mich., and attended Little Flower High School in Chicago. He is employed with Pacific Curtain Wall in San Francisco and is the brother of John Sullivan of Norfolk, Va., and James, Pat and Mike Sullivan and Mrs. Russell Johnson, all of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Pastor Is Assigned To Grand Bahamas

By MOLLY MARIN

A new assignment at Freeport in the Grand Bahamas awaits the Rev. Sig G. Sandrock, pastor of the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church in Tiburon. The Rev. and Mrs. Sandrock and their two younger children, Sigrid and Paul, will leave for the British possession after Christmas. The minister has been asked to begin a new church, which will be the first Lutheran church on the Grand Bahamas. Five years ago he started the church in Tiburon. The Sandrocks have two married daughters, Mrs. Norman Emerson Dean II of Mill Valley and Mrs. Carl L. Jech of Dubuque, Iowa. Their daughter, Cherie, will stay with the Deans in Mill Valley to finish her sophomore year at Redwood High School. The younger children will attend private schools in Freeport. Besides her assistance in the activities of the church, Mrs. Sandrock has been treasurer of the Bel Aire Unit of the Reed District Parent-Teachers Club, secretary for the Junior Theater of Marin and a volunteer worker for the heart fund.

Grandmother Of Nine Is Chapter President

A 35-year resident of Marin, the mother of one daughter and two sons and the grandmother of nine, Mrs. Henry J. August of San Rafael, has been named new president of the Marin chapter of Catholic Daughters of America. A member of the organization for 14 years, Mrs. August has served as lecturer-treasurer and vice grand regent.

Potluck dinners and a family night party are on the agenda for the Catholic group.

Also associated with the Fraternal Order of Eagles Auxiliary, Mrs. August likes sewing, dancing, bowling, fishing, camping and cooking, with the first two her favorites.

MRS. EUGENE SMITH of San Rafael marked her 90th birthday Tuesday night at a dinner party at Sabella's given by her children and grandchildren. Mrs. Smith was the wife of the late Eugene Smith who served as city clerk and assessor in Marin for more than 50 years. Attending were her son, Harold W. Smith of San Francisco and his daughter and son-in-law, the Arthur Williams of San Mateo, Mrs. Richard D. Mack of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hobson of Sebastopol and Mr. and Mrs. John Pitcher and son, David of San Rafael.

Council Elects New Officer

New president of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council, Mrs. Robert L. Bilderback, is a 28-year resident of Marin.

Wife of a building contractor and mother of three children, Diane Bilderback has also served the council as a director-at-large. The active mother is also associated with the Laurel Dell Parent-Teacher Assn.

The main purpose of the council is to promote better family motion pictures and television programs and to educate parents to their responsibilities in selecting material their children will see.

Clipped Wings' President Was Registered Nurse

Bobbie Nelson flew for United Airlines from 1947 to 1953, and was based in Chicago and San Francisco. She and her husband have three children, Susan, 11, John, 9, and Ellen, 5. Bob Nelson is vice president of the American Licorice Co.

The new president's hobbies are gardening, being active in school work, Parent-Teacher Assn., and sailing. The Nelsons have their own sailboat in which they race in the Cal 20 class. She attended Ohio State College and received her nurse's degree at Massillon Hospital in Massillon, Ohio.

Victoria Weiss Is Bride In San Rafael Mission Rite

Mission San Rafael Arcangel was the setting on Sept. 3 for the wedding of Victoria Carolyn Weiss and Stephen John Wolf of Greenbrae.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ferdinand Weiss of Greenbrae and the late Mr. Weiss.

Given in marriage by her brother Fred Weiss, the bride wore a sheath of white embroidered organza.

Preceding the bride down the aisle in powder blue crepe gowns were Ann Teller of San Anselmo as maid of honor and Mrs. James Blomquist of Ross, bridesmaid.

Caroline and Stephen Filippetti of San Jose were flower girl and ringbearer.

Paul Cheetham of San Rafael was best man and ushering were John Franzman and Ron O'Connell both of San Rafael.

A reception folowed the ceremony at the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club in Kentfield.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in Greenbrae.

Mrs. O'Grady Appointed To Industrial Relations Position

One of California's highest ranking women in state government, Mrs. Margaret R. O'Grady of San Francisco, was promoted to deputy director of the State Dept. of Industrial Relations this week.

Mrs. O'Grady has served as assistant to the department's directors under three governors. She was recommended for the promotion by Ernest B. Webb, director.

Mrs. O'Grady was appointed assistant to the director of Industrial Relations and chief of the division of administration in 1947.

The department's work includes apprenticeship standards, state conciliation service, fair employment practices, industrial accidents, industrial safety, industrial welfare, labor law enforcement, labor statistics and research, and the state compensation insurance fund.

Mrs. O'Grady received her BA in economics from the University of California. She is past president of the Bay Area Personnel Women. During World War II she served with the U. S. Navy, rising to the rank of lieutenant commander in the WAVES.

Mrs. O'Grady and her husband, James, a San Francisco insurance broker, live in San Francisco.

Secret Salary Sessions Held Illegal For Council

The California legislative counsel has issued an opinion holding that a public body cannot legally hold a closed session to discuss salaries.

The opinion was issued on request of Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael). He sought it at request of the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat, after an attempt by the Santa Rosa City Council to meet in closed session to discuss salaries of city department heads.

George H. Murphy, legislative counsel, held:

"It is our opinion that the provisions of the Ralph M. Brown Act prohibit a city council from holding an executive session to discuss the salaries of city department heads."

Analyzing the act, the legislative counsel said: "It is the clear intention of this law that the actions and deliberations of legislative bodies of local agencies . . . must be conducted openly, and that the people in delegating authority do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know."

The opinion then called attention to the section of the act exempting from the open meeting requirement sessions "to consider the appointment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints and charges brought against such officer or employee."

The wording is clear as to the purposes for which a closed session may be held, the legislative counsel said. "The discussion of salaries is not among those subjects authorized."

The legal counsel is legal adviser to the legislature.

Near Riot Marks Debut Of Huston's Bible Film

There was so much pushing and shoving among the crowds that lined Broadway that a mounted policeman rode his horse into the crowd to keep the throng back. The film is showing at Loew's State.

Drawing loudest applause among the celebrities were Ava Gardner who plays Sarah in the movie, and Bette Davis.

Miss Gardner was escorted by John Huston, who directed the $15-million production and played the role of Noah.

Asked how "The Bible" differed from other spectacles Huston said:

Drake Film Festival Tomorrow

The first Sir Francis Drake High School Film Festival will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the school's little theater.

Seven films, with story ideas and photography by students, will be shown. English teachers Robert Johnson and Peter Monahan inaugurated the idea of student film-making at Drake High School a year ago.

Five of the seven are in color and each film runs between 10 and 30 minutes. All of the films were photographed in and around San Rafael and San Anselmo except two, one shot on "location" in San Francisco and another at Stinson Beach.

Titles of the films include "Day Trip," "A Day to Forget," "The Temptation of Thomas," "Goodmorning — Stupid," "The Locker," "The Idaho Tests," and "A Lonely man."

'Bard And Harper' Set For Tomorrow

Poet-playwright James Broughton and harp virtuoso Joel Andrews will perform poetry readings with harp accompaniment in a program, "The Bard and the Harper," at College of Marin's Olney Hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The performance, part of College of Marin's 1966-67 Concert-Lecture Series, is free to the public.

Broughton and Andrews combine humorous verse and satire with serious poetry and music in a program ranging from a Handel concerto for solo harp to a lampoon of Zen Buddhism put to music.

Broughton attracted national attention during San Francisco's "Beat Era" as one of the so-called Renaissance Group of poets. Andrews is first harpist with the Oakland Symphony.

Yellowstone National Park, with an area of 3,472 square miles, is larger in size than either Delaware or Rhode Island.

HE'LL GROW UP TO BE A NEWSMAN

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A politically precocious child of about 6 put Gov George Romney of Michigan on the spot yesterday.

Romney was about to cut a ribbon opening a new Republican precinct headquarters in Lansing, when the boy shouted: "Are you gonna be president?"

"That is purely speculation," he answered.

"What does that mean?" another child asked.

"Well, it means that there's not much likelihood," the governor replied.

Hypocrisy Is Linked To Youths' Unrest

The hypocrisy of parents and the value systems of American society were blamed today for the many protest movements among young people.

The accuser was San Francisco attorney Patrick Hallinan, national counsel of the Marxist W. E. DuBois Clubs, speaking to the Marvelous Marin Breakfast Club at the Oakview Club in San Rafael.

Hallinan, 31-year-old son of Belvedere attorney Vincent Hallinan, explained youthful unrest as a search for truth. He praised the "moral courage" of those who refuse to fight in Viet Nam, who participate in demonstrations for peace and civil rights, and who explore unpopular political and economics theories.

He told his audience of business and professional men that these youth are frustrated in their idealism by "our society, which selects men who can get out on their own and make it." He said "The value is on the tough and self-reliant who accumulate wealth and power."

As a result of this materialistic code, he said, "sharp business practice breeds a kind of morality with which our young people have to live."

As an attorney, Hallinan said, he is constantly called on by young people who want to get out of the draft. He said: "They're not pacifists, but they don't want to fight in Viet Nam. It takes courage to face five years in a federal penitentiary for that. But they will not be hypocrites. They will not forge documents. They take a very moral courageous stand. They just refuse to go, and then take what's coming to them."

He quoted an Italian motto: "It is sweet and proper to die for one's country." Young people, he said, "just won't buy that any more." He said that the graves of brave and patriotic young Germans and Japanese who did buy that "are scattered all over the world."

He described the DuBois clubs as "militant and Marxist," but said they were unafiliated with any Communist party .They are, however, attracting many young people because of their stand on civil rights and war, he said.

He related that when he was at University of California in 1953, "you couldn't get nine students to march" for a cause. In 1964, he said, 9,000 marched in the Free Speech Movement.

He asked his audience to note, however, that "youth doesn't have a political philosophy. It has a moral concern."

To recapture the trust and confidence of youth, he said, parents will have to take forthright stands on the issues of the day, speak honestly to their children, and then, above all, do something.

Hallinan told his audience that the economy of the world was moving toward socialism. He said: "You can't stop the change If you oppose it, change will destroy you."

Describing himself as "an Irish gadfly, belonging to no political party," Hallinan made clear his position that the political left is gaining the attention of youth because it alone seems to youth to be concerned with the moral issues underlying the problems of the day.

CORE Seeks Commitment On Firearms

The Marin chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality last night requested "an explicit commitment from the heads of all law enforcement departments in Marin County regarding their instructions to individual patrolmen in the use of firearms when attempting to make an arrest."

The request grew from the shooting of Matthew Johnson, 16, on Tuesday at Hunter's Point in San Francisco by a policeman.

Mrs. Salley Mayer, board secretary of Marin CORE, reported members also voted to telegraph "a general condemnation of the handling of the Hunters Point incident and the long neglect of the situation in that area" to San Francisco Mayor John F. Shelley and Police Chief Thomas Cahill.

Members agreed to send $25 to the Johnson family.

A report of the committee to nominate new officers was deferred to Oct. 12.

Easter Seal Society Installs Harry Cooper

Harry Cooper Jr. was installed as president of the Easter Seal Society of Marin at its annual installation banquet last night at the San Geronimo County Club.

Other officers installed were Anthony Matulick, first vice president; Walter Hughs, second vice president; Mrs. Dave Morgan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eugene Stone, recording secretary; Edward F. Pierce, treasurer, and Mrs. E. W. Lestom, assistant treasurer.

Nature Museum Classes From Seashore To Sierra

Nine classes have been announced by the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, for all age groups. The offerings will range from trips for preschoolers to a winter sports class.

Friday field trips, for children from three to five accompanied by a parent, start Oct. 7 from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. for six weeks.

Another six-week class for pre-schoolers starts Tuesday Oct. 4, from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. It's called Nursery Nature and the instructor will be Mrs. Roberta Tasley.

Classes for the age group six to nine include a nature group on Thursdays from 3:45 to 4:30, and another on birds on alternate Saturdays at 9:30 a.m., taught by Lynn Stafford, former Audubon naturalist.

Stafford will also instruct a Saturday morning bird class for 10 to 14 year olds, also on alternate weeks beginning Oct. 8.

David Cavagnaro, an assistant at the Academy of Sciences in San Francisco, will lead an eight-week Saturday morning class fo rthe same age group, called Nature's Oddities.

A family tide pool class, also open to individuals, will be led by Mrs. Rosamond Day, beginning Oct. 8 for six weeks.

A new class this year will feature instructions on flower and weed arrangement by Mrs. Sara Tuckey, who originated the Decorators Guild at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Her class, limited to 30 adults starts Oct. 4 from 10 a.m. to noon for six weeks.

The Sitzmark science class will cater to all aspects of winter sports, with films and guest speakers scheduled on the effects of altitude, geography of the Sierras, plants and animals of the mountains. Instructed by Mrs. Barbara Lachelt, the class begins Oct. 4 at 8 p.m.

Other fall activities scheduled by the museum include family field trips on the third Saturday of each month, family movies on Saturdays at 1:30 p.m. at the museum in Albert Park, and a herpetology club to be detailed later.

British Rocket Helps Spanish Space Probe

MADRID (AP) — Spain will make its first probe into outer space Oct. 15 with the firing of a British-designed Skua rocket from a pad at Camp Arenosillo, officials said today.

The launching site is on the Atlantic Coast. Spain belongs to the European Organization for Space Investigation and expects to fire a series of Skua and American Judy Dart missiles on suborbital scientific missions, officials said.

Phones Sampling Finds Discourtesy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —A Pacific Telephone company executive says that a sampling of the conduct of about 200 operators shows that they treated customers discourteously approximately 250,000 times during a three-month period.

R. U. Skibiniski, an assistant vice president, made the statement yesterday at a state Public Utilities Commission hearing into whether business houses have the right to monitor their operators for courtesy without a "beep" tone alerting them.

Skibiniski said that the study showed that it is imperative that the company continue to monitor its operators.

Trespass, Marijuana Charge In Sausalito

Allan Wade Parker, 23, of 196 Buckley Avenue, Sausalito, was booked yesterday at county jail by Sausalito police on charges of possession of marijuana and of trespassing.

No Blaze, Just Bugs

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UPI) —Firemen answered a call at a tavern here and discovered when they arrived that the passerby who sounded the alarm had mistaken a cloud of fumigating dust for smoke. The name of the pub—"Blaze's Tavern."

Clients Resist Interest Raise

SAN GABRIEL (AP) — After more than 1,000 homeowners protested, Prudential Savings and Loan Association withdrew interest rate increases on existing home mortgages.

The San Gabriel association had increased the interest rate on 7,000 loans from 6.6 per cent to 7.6 per cent under an escalation clause that has been used since 1959.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1966 — 25

No Clues In Bricca Killings; Family Has Ties In Marin

Police of Hamilton County, Ohio, appeared stymied today in their search for the slayer of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Bricca and their 4-year-old daughter, kin of a Kentfield doctor.

The bodies of the 28-year-old Bricca; his wife, Linda Jane, 24, and their daughter, Debbie, were found Tuesday night in their home at Bridgetown, a suburb of Cincinnati. All had been stabbed to death. The little girl had been horribly mutilated.

Bricca was a nephew of Dr. Constantine R. Bricca Jr. of 6 Rancheria Road, Kentfield. He was a son of Dr. Elmer C. Bricca of San Francsico, who shared medical offices in San Francisco with the Kentfield oculist. Dr. Elmer Bricca is an eye,ear, nose and throat specialist. Both are sons of a pioneer San Francisco physician.

The murder victims had returned to Bridgetown only a few days ago after attending the wedding of Bricca's sister, Joan, in San Francisco.

Richard Meyer, an electrical engineer who lived next door to the Briccas, discovered the bodies after he investigated because the Briccas' two cars had not been moved for two days and trash cans had not been replaced after being emptied.

Debbie's body was on the floor of her bedroom, the Associated Press reported from Cincinnati. Bricca and his wife were lying on the floor of the master bedroom.

Lt. Hebert Vogel of Hamilton County Police said Bricca, a project engineer for Monsanto Chemical Co. at Addyston — another Cincinnati suburb—was clad in a T-shirt and trousers. His wife was wearing night clothes.

The house had been ransacked. One item was reported missing: a teak-handled Indian steak knife.

Firebreak Help Voted By Marin Water Board

Marin Municipal Water District Board yesterday voted to provide men to help the Marin County Fire Department cut extended fire breaks in the watershed this winter.

Deputy State Forester C. W. Fairbank recommended that the district expand its fire breaks into fuel breaks by clearing all vegetation 50 to 100 feet on each side of the present fire breaks, according to Mr. William R. Seeger of the district.

Fairbank placed first priority for the fuel break in the Kent Lake and Bolinas Ridge area. The next break should be cleared in the Alpine Lake area, he said, and a third should connect the first two areas.

His report also included a history of fire protection in the district, a map of all fire roads and a survey of the fire protection policies of other water districts in California.

At the request of Marin County supervisors, the board also reaffirmed its policy of "maintaining its 17,700 acres of watershed lands in their natural state of beauty with no lands to be sold to privae individuals or corporations.

"Wholesome recreation has alway been permitted and the waer district has gladly cooperated with the County of Marin in providing increased facilities," the resolution read.

Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

1. Awarded contracts for two pumps to Jacuzzi Bros. Co. of Richmond for $641.60 and Wesco Pump Co. of San Francisco for $801.

2 Authorized the manager, assistan manager, superinendent and any board member to attend the fall conference of the American Water Works Assn. in Los Angeles, Oct. 26-28.

Chamber Defers Action On Clean-Up

The contract was submitted to the board by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Fields, Woodside color consultants who proposed the campaign.

"The board of directors felt the form of the contract was inadequate," board president Charles J. Francis reported.

The board did not question the cost, estimated at $200 to $250 for each building front, Francis said. "The general feeling was that the project appeared feasible."

The board will review the contract item by item at a special meeting next Wednesday noon at 26 Miller Avenue, Francis said.

The board endorsed $800,000 in city bond issues on the November ballot, $500,000 to replace and extend sewer trunk lines and $300,000 to build a public safety building.

Board Applications

Applications by persons wanting to fill out the three-year term of Mrs. Marietta F. Larsen on the Tamalpais High School District Board must be made by 5 p.m. Monday, according to District Supt. Chester G. Carlisle. The board will set a timetable for interviewing candidates during a meeting Monday night, he said.

Park's Use For Contest Granted

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission last night granted J. and B. Ford agency's request to reserve the town park for a "punt, pass and kick" contest Oct. 8 at 10 a.m.

The contest is for boys 8 through 13 years old.

The commission granted the request of the Corte Madera Homeowners Assn. for six pine trees to plant where the Corte Madera Grade has been widened.

Class Needs Aired In Bolinas-Salinas

Bolinas-Stinson school district trustees last night held a preliminary discussion of curriculum, classroom and teacher needs in the next 10 years. No action was taken, but Trustee Arthur E. Carpenter said committees would be formed to study these matters.

Principal Keith Oveson asked that residents with special knowledge who are interested in lecturing in the schools to notify him.

Couple Nabbed Near Novato In Death Case

A Colorado laborer and his common-law wife, who spent a night in Novato while objects of a nationwide search, were held in Santa Rosa today on suspicion of murder.

Jimmie E. Crater, 26, of Commerce, Colo., and Claudia Azevedo, 21, of Santa Rosa were held in Sonoma County Jail for Adams County, Colo., authorities.

PAIR SPOTTED

They were arrested late Tuesday by California Highway Patrol Sgt. David Martin in Sonoma County, shortly after they left the home of Miss Azevedo's sister, Mrs. Carl E. Jacobsen, at 6 Western Drive, Novato. Martin had read a nationwide teletype alert for Crater.

Crater and Miss Azevedo were charged with first degree murder and conspiracy in the slaying last Friday of school custodian Harvey Lenz, 45, father of five. His battered body was found Sunday besides the Platte River, 10 miles from Commerce City, north of Denver. Adams County officers said $100 was missing from his pockets.

Tuesday afternoon, the Sonoma County sheriff's office notified Novato police that the couple might be at Mrs. Jacobsen's home.

ALREADY GONE

Police Sgts. Maurice Lafferty and Otto Haiungs, Officer Raymond Courier, and Matron Fern Isaacson went to the house. No one was at home, but a neighbor told them Claudia Azevedo had spent Monday night there and left Tuesday for the home of Larry Winslow in Santa Rosa.

Novato police relayed this information to Santa Rosa police and the Sonoma County sheriff, but meantime the pair were arrested by the highway patrol sergeant en route to Santa Rosa.

Dist. Atty. Floyd Marks of Adams County and two investigators arrived in Santa Rosa yesterday to begin extradition proceedings.

In Good Condition

Katherine Newoff, 58, of 19 Redwood Drive, Ross, was reported in good condition at Ross General Hospital today after collapsing at her desk at Reserve Life Insurance Co., 1705 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael yesterday. She reportedly suffered a seizure.

A Doomsday On Our Hills?

Marin of the future need not be a "suburban glob"; it can be "a place to live in dignity," a man who has planned many of its major subdivisions assured an audience of city officials last night.

Engineer Daniel P. Coleman was sometimes lyrical and sometimes humorous as he talked about engineering and development problems in an address titled "The Hills of Marin." His audience was the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, meeting last night in the new San Rafael City Hall after a dinner at West End Villa.

'NO DOOMSDAY'

Despite the ominous predictions of speakers "on the rubber chicken circuit," he declared, "we are not of necessity facing an inevitable development called Doomsday."

But in Marin, he warned, "we are faced with the problem of placing all areas of man's activities on the hillsides," since a major portion of the county's undeveloped land is over 15 per cent slope.

Coleman reviewed various approaches to hillside development that have been tried here and elsewhere.

Current favorite, he said, is the "cluster plan," but this has been so much misused that it has become a device for a developer trying to squeeze greater building density onto steep slopes.

CLUSTERS BELONG

Proper use of the cluster plan, he said, is in the West Marin Plan and the San Rafael General Plan — in both of which Coleman played a major role. This involves a slope policy, with lot size increasing with the slope, but with the developer allowed to "count up his density and group it" under certain controls, the remaining open land being dedicated as a park area or kept as an open area easement.

This, he said, reduces costs both to developer and city, and leaves much of the hillsides undisturbed.

A large undeveloped area in southern Sonoma County is now being planned, Coleman said, with self-contained mountain villages on hilltops and the slopes left untouched. The same approach has been used in El Dorado Hills in San Diego County and Mountain Park in Los Angeles—the latter even including industrial plants concealed in canyons.

A Napa County development now being planned, he related, will locate homes on the edges of a 250-acre table land that is now a vineyard, with vineyard remaining in the middle to be owned jointly by the home buyers.

The initial planning of Peacock Gap left the hillsides almost entirely undisturbed, he recalled, although "some of the later grading has not been so good."

HOPEFUL NOTE

Closing his speech on a hopeful note, Coleman said:

"It's difficult to believe that in this age, when 90 per cent of all the scientists who ever lived are alive today, we cannot find those who are able to develop plans whereby their fellowmen can live in dignity."

Coleman's speech followed a business meeting at which the mayors and councilmen expressed no interest in a suggestion by chairman Charles W. Aby of San Rafael that they talk about ordinances to implement the Kirk Law, requiring sale at developer's cost of school sites in large subdivisions. Marin County has adopted such an ordinance.

Old City Hall Demolition Job Ordered

Contract for demolition of San Rafael's old city hall was awarded to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael last night on its low bid og $4,385.

The San Rafael City Council held a 10-second meeting to award the contract, with Councilman Fred E. Jensen absent. The brief meeting was held before the start of a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen in the new San Rafael City Hall.

Contract award was delayed when bids were opened last week to give City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen time to dispose of furniture in the old building.

Guilty Plea On Firearms Charge

Milton Leo Doster, 32, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to displaying a firearm in a rude and threatening manner at a county fireman.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. scheduled judgment for Oct. 20.

Doster, of 10 Sanchez Avenue, Forest Knolls, flourished the weapon yesterday at Robert Taverna, Marin County fireman, when Taverna asked him to douse an illegal incinerator fire at Doster's home.

Two Marin Soldiers Retiring From Service

Col. Glen S. Scott, commanding officers of Sixth Army Special Troops, was to be honored at retirement ceremonies at the Presidio of San Francisco this afternoon.

Two Marin County men were among 12 other officers and enlisted men to be honored at the retirement ceremonies. Retiring from active service are Col. Arthur H. Larkins Jr. of 10 Palm Court, Larkspur, and Sgt. 1/C George W. Moore of San Rafael.

MAYORS NAME BRIXON AS CHAIRMAN

City Councilman Neil R. Brixon was elected last night to a year's term as chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

Brixon was nominated by City Councilman Charles H. Pendleton of Corte Madera. There was no other nomination and he was elected unanimously. He took over the gavel from City Councilman Charles W. Aby of San Rafael at the close of the meeting.

Dedication Scheduled For Fire Hall

The new fire station in San Marin will be officially dedicated from 2 to 4 p.m. on Oct. 29, the Novato Fire District board decided last night

Commissioners Henry Alvernaz and Joseph Silveira and Fire Chief George Cavallero were named to the committee to plan the dedication. Commissioner Peter Ferrarese was absent.

Firemen Charles Gilbreth, Thomas Tomasini and James Cavallero passed the six-month probationary period and were given permanent status with salary increase from $550 to $570 per month.

Condition 'Fair'

Creighton Scott Wyatt, 20, of 170 Cloudview Road, Sausalito, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with head injuries and multiple fractures of his left leg suffered in a traffic accident Friday night on Shoreline Highway.

Cities Rap Agency Annexation Policy

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission and its executive officer, John F. Barrows, were accused last night of deserting the standards for annexations to cities originally adopted by the commission.

The charge against the commission was leveled by Mayor Albert E. White of Mill Valley. Barrows was singled out by City Councilman Charles F. Pendleton of Corte Madera. White and Pendleton spoke at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen in the San Rafael City Hall.

Dr. White recalled that when the LAFC was set up, a committee of city councilmen composed of himself, Gordon W. Strawbridge of Tiburon and Dr. Charles W. Aby of San Rafael worked with the county on a set of standards for the new, powerful agency.

The standards that were then adopted are not now operating, Dr. White asserted. He blamed this on "the three county people on the LAFC."

In an obvious allusion to County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the Mill Valley mayor declared:

"I feel it is improper for one supervisor who sits on LAFC to say he thinks there should be no annexations to cities."

He asked that the council of mayors request a workshop with the LAFC to determine "what are our goals."

Pendleton, who was one of the original members of the local agency commission, echoed Whie's charges, then declared:

"I kind of feel John Barrows . . . has assumed certain responsibilities over and above city and over and above county representation . . . I don't think the county deputy administrator should have any representation at all."

Pendleton proposed the LAFC be reorganized, with greaer city representation and without an executive officer.

Barrows, who was present, did not respond.

Mayor Vaughn Marker of Larkspur objected that the subject had not appeared on the agenda for the meeting and was therefore out of order.

Chairman Aby said he had allowed White to speak "to alert the cities tonight" and that the subject would be on the agenda for next month's council of mayors meeting, to be held Oct. 26 in Sausalito.

Balmer Fires Salvo Against Commission

An indictment of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission has been submitted by Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to an Assembly committee studying the commissions throughout the state.

Chaired by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Contra Costa, the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government will meet in San Mateo Monday. Balmer said he will attend, but does not plan to testify.

The state law which set up the commission, Balmer charged, "is being subverted in Marin County." The local commission has permitted persons not included in annexations to protest annexations and has attempted to change uninhabited annexations into habitated annexations, he said in a long list of charges.

'Is God Dead?' Variety In Opinion At Seminar

If a conclusion were possible at a College of Marin student seminar yesterday on the question, "Is God Dead?" it would be that there were as many strongly held opinions as there were students at the seminar.

The debate was largely concerned with picking the right question. Offered for discussion, in addition to the issue of God's existence, were whether man needs a God and religion's authoritarian code of morality, whether the question of man's need was relevant, what society would be like without religion, whether society is in fact without religion, and more.

A student who said he was an atheist said that the body of Christian dogma is itself a "Golden Calf," and that he prefers a code of ethics based on personal responsibility and reason.

Another argued that a person cannot be completely responsible for his actions, and asked whether each of the San Francisco rioters of Tuesday night had decided individually for the riot, or whether all were influenced by the night's events and a background that tended toward violence.

"God may be necessary for some people," one girl said, "and that's fine if they need religion. But God has never existed for me. I've been living in a world without God for 18 years —and I prefer it that way."

Another suggested that atheists and devout Christians often find rapport on the basis that if one believes love is the ultimate reality, the question of God's existence does not matter.

Children's Library To Be Sheltered

The Children's Library, which occupies the west corner of the Main County Library in the Civic Center, will soon have a sheltered area of its own.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, said the Children's Library will be moved into the former supplementary textbook library, vacated by the county schools office when it moved to Corte Madera.

The wall that separated the supplemental textbook library from the main library has been removed, adding about 40 feet more space to the south.

"It was just a matter of outgrowing the present space," said Barabara Rauhala, children's librarian. "There was also a need for a place for our story hour."

The new space will include an office, where carpeting will be laid so children can sit on the floor in the enclosed room during story hour.

Laurel Dell Schedules Back-To-School Night

Laurel Dell Intermediate School in San Rafael will hold its back-to-school night next Monday from 7:30 to 8:55 p.m., according to Martin Parlan, principal.

Presentation of fourth grade programs is scheduled from 7:30 to 7:55 p.m., fifth grade programs from 8 to 8:25, and sixth grade studies from 8:30 to 8:55.

Humane Society Gives Horse Care Courses

The annual horse care and instruction course, sponsored by the Marin Humane Society, will continue over the next five Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Southern Marin Horsemen's Arena, Blithedale and Camino Alto Avenues, Mill Valley.

The first class, held Saturday, was on the anatomy and maintenance of a healthy horse. Future subjects in the course, for which no enrollment fee is charged, will be grooming, hoof care, feeding, bridling, saddling, selection of tack, selection of a horse, transportation, trail riding and pasturing.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT BOND NO. 37 MARIN BAY IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 2 SERIES 1962-2 ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN MARIN COUNTY

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/66, Pr. $358.69; 7/2/65, Int. $138.89; 1/2/66, Int. $138.89; 7/2/66, Int. $129.13; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 14th day of October, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much therefore as may be necessary, at my office in the Marin County Civic Center at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon, together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: All of Lot No. 38, as shown on that certain map entitled, "Map of Peacock Lagoon Unit One San Rafael, California," recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin on July 17, 1962 in Volume 11 of Maps at Page 24. TOGETHER WITH: a portion of Lot 39 on the above-mentioned map, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the northerly line of said Lot 39 with the westerly line of Riviera Drive; thence South 64°11'20" West, along the northerly line of said lot, 111.61 feet to a point; thence leaving said line, North 73°39'05" East 117.94 feet to the westerly line of Riviera Drive; thence northwesterly along the arc of a curve to the right, the center of which bears North 49°31'30" East, having a radius of 535 feet, a central angle of 2°08'30" a distance of 19.99 feet to the point of the beginning. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $358.69; due on account of interest $483.79; due on account of penalties $85.06; Total amount due on said bond $5,231.82.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, principal, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent - Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1/2/66, Pr. $509.60, 7/2/65, Int. $214.03; 1/2/66, Int. $214.03, 7/2/66, Int. $198.74; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 14th day of October, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the Marin County Civic Center at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 135 as shown on that certain map entitled "Map of a Resubdivision of Lots 20 through 55 and Lots 64 through 76, as shown on Map of Marin Bay Unit 2-A, San Rafael, California," recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, California, on June 5, 1964, in Volume 12 of Maps at page 73. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $509.60; due on account of interest $741.20; due on account of penalties $114.54; Total amount due on said bond $7990.14.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent - Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Dietary Control Helps Overcome Morning Sickness In Pregnancy

VAN DELLEN

Early morning nausea and vomiting affect about half of all expectant mothers. Even if nothing is done, these manifestations usually vanish by the end of first three months, suggestion plays a part, and the tendency is increased by fear, worry, and loss of sleep.

The best management is dietary. Small feedings from one to three hours apart are recommended; fluids should be sipped slowly, in small quantities, and between meals. Chlorpromazine and motion sickness remedies also are helpful.

Constipation is common during pregnancy and is best avoided by adding rougage to the diet and drinking more fluids. Acquiring the habit of two stools daily is desirable, one before or after breakfast and the other after dinner. Cathartics, laxatives, and enemas are used only as a last resort because they encourage miscarriage.

Suppositories are the least troublesome and act by stimulating the lowermost part of the intestine. The softer bulk-forming or lubricating products are needed occasionally. When gas is a problem, beans, onion, cabbage, raw apples, radishes, or cucumbers should not be eaten. Heartburn can be eased by simple drugs or change in diet. Burping may be caused by eating too much or swallowing air.

FOR LEG cramps, massage the muscles, exercise the feet, and take skim milk or calcium tablets plus vitamins A and D as preventive measures. Dizziness or faintness generally is of nervous origin and subsides after resting on the sofa or bed for a few moments.

Call the physician immediately when there is failure to feel the baby after life begins. The same applies to spotting, bleeding, watery discharge, or the development of painful contractions of the uterus. If any of these symptoms occur near the end of term, call hubby to get you into the hospital pronto.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INFECTION, NOT EMOTIONS

P. K. writes. Could appendicitis result from a mental shock? The day my husband asked for a divorce I was rushed to the hospital for an appendectomy.

REPLY

Not if the diagnosis was correct. Appendicitis is due to infection, which usually follows obstruction within the organ. In this respect, it is unrelated to the nervous system and in your case the two episodes were coincidental.

HERNIA IN INFANTS

Mrs. G. R. writes: What causes rupture in newborn babies?

REPLY

The usual hernia in the groin is caused by an imperfection in development. An umbilical hernia generally is temporary and represents residual weakness over the spot where the cord was attached.

No. 1800 Sept. 29, Oct. 6, 1966

All you'd lose would be your freedom . . .

Newspapers are familiar things, but extremely dangerous. They're dangerous to any kind of government that operates in secrecy. They're dangerous to corruption in high places. They're dangerous to those who would use public concerns for private ends.

But they don't LOOK dangerous . . .

They appear, as does the Independent-Journal, to be a journal of events. They tell you of Congress, of Viet Nam, of births, health and education, of fashions and business, of politics, a charity drive—a thousand things. Newspapers APPEAR so familiar because you see them every day. And they're written by people who don't look dangerous at all.

But don't be fooled. The news is a lot more than it seems. It arms you with something more powerful than any government, any weapon, any faction. It arms you with the ONE thing which alone can protect your freedoms—the simple act of KNOWING what government is doing, from city hall to national capitol. It puts in your hands the means to correct, to change, to ward off any encroachment on the democratic process.

The I-J is part of this ever-flowing stream if information. Our reporters sit in for you at the inner councils — and make them public. They extend your eyes and ears to any meeting where the public concern is at stake. With pad and pencil they take you across the critical thresholds of knowledge . . . turning acts into the unmistakable fact of print.

This is why newspapers are dangerous things to have around . . . in anything but a free society.

This is why, if you would be free, the press MUST BE FREE to serve and preserve the laws of freedom.

As you read your newspaper, take a second look: Is it really just a journal of events? Or is it perhaps a Bill of Rights, printed daily, affirming even your liberty to read?

Bob Hope Parades His Leading Ladies

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope's first comedy special of the new season last night seemed to be more a demonstration of show packing than an exercise in humor.

The NBC hour got off to a star-studded start even if the weak jokes just laid there and quietly died. Hope's guests were 15 of the 35 actresses who have been his leading ladies over almost three decades in Hollywood. It took considerable ingenuity to give each one her brief moment in the spotlight.

This was accomplished by giving Hope a dream sequence. Thus he was able to dance and sing a song with Marilyn Maxwell, Rhonda Fleming and Arlene Dahl. The dream shifted to a comedy sequence that took care of Virginia Mayo, Janis Paige and Joan Collins. Finally, with nine still to get on, a sketch format was introduced.

This had Hope planning a musical version of "Gone With the Wind," and announcing that his "favorite leading lady" would play Scarlett O'Hara. In that way we glimpsed all nine girls rushing to grab the part, among them Lucille Ball, Dorothy Lamour and Signe Hasso.

It wasn't a very funny show but you can't expect too many jokes when there are so many celebrities around. And it was interesting, particularly for women viewers, to note how kindly — or unkindly — the years have treated some of Hope's feminine leads of the pre-TV days.

It was this viewer's lot last night also to inspect CBS' "Lost in Space," back for a second season.

The episode may have made TV history since the big role was played by the space family's lovable robot which, in spite of reprograming by the evil computers, loyally overcame the orders and saved the earth people from the automatons. Never in this viewer's memory has a robot been a star — but then I have missed some earlier episodes of "Lost in Space" and "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," a series in which underwater adventurers are rather similar to those in outer space.

Dodgers Feel Heat; Race Goes To Wire

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Larry Jaster is no phantom...but the Los Angeles Dodgers would like to pinch him, just once, to be sure.

The Dodgers are certain there's life in the Pittsburgh Pirates, however. They can feel the heat on their backs again.

Jaster, St. Louis' enigmatic left-hander, blanked Los Angeles 2-0 last night, running his shutout string against the Dodgers to five games and stalling the National League pennant drive.

The Pirates, meanwhile, scraped their way to a 2-1, 4-2 doubleheader sweep over Philadelphia and inched within 1½ games of first place in the stretch race.

Jaster, a 22-year-old rookie who has been less than sensational against the rest of the league, tied a 50-year-old shutout record by checking the Dodgers on four singles. Only one other modern-era pitcher, Grover Alexander, had shut out one club five times in one season—and the Hall of Famer did not make his mark in successive starts.

Jaster's five straight shutouts over the Dodgers topped the record of four in a row set by Fred Fitzsimmons of the New York Giants against Cincinnati in 1929. Alexander, pitching for Philadelphia, blanked the Reds five times in 1916.

"I can't see any reason why we can't hit him," said Dodger second baseman Jim Lefebvre. "It's weird. He has trouble against everbody else in the league."

Jaster, 11-5 on the year, has made 21 starts. Take away his 45-inning hex on the Dodgers and he's left with one complete game and a 4.63 earned run average.

"It's kind of an unbelievable thing," he admitted. "I don't feel any different against the Dodgers than anyone else. I pitch the same against them."

"I think maybe they ought to pitch Jaster again tonight," chirped Harry Walker, whose Pirates are idle while the Dodgers complete their four-game set at St. Louis. After that the Dodgers wind up with three games at Philadelphia while the Pirates close with three at home against San Francisco.

The third-place Giants kindled their faint pennant hopes with a 5-2 victory over Atlanta last night. Elsewhere, Chicago beat New York 4-1 before losing 1-0 in their doubleheader nightcap and Cincinnati divided a twin bill with Houston, bowing 4-3 after taking the opener 7-1.

Cleveland blanked Minnesota 4-0 and Detroit edged California 5-4 in 10 innings in the only American League activity.

Ed Spiezio's two-run double with two out in the fourth inning backed Jaster against the Dodgers, whose best shot at the Cardinal southpaw was a bases-loaded threat in the fourth that died when Lefebvre flied out.

Jaster, who has not yielded an extra base hit to the Dodgers all year, outpitched rookie Don Sutton, who was a victim of Dick Schofield's error during the Cards' two-run fourth.

A walk, Bill Mazeroskis' triple and Groat's errant throw gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead in the second inning of the nightcap and they scored the deciding runs in the eighth on Matty Alou's single, a sacrifice, Roberto Clemente's double and another poor throw by Groat on Clendenon's infield hit.

Pagan stopped Groat's smash behind third base in the ninth inning of the opener and turned it into the game-ending out, stranding Rich Allen, who had tripled, at third.

REDWOOD, TERRA LINDA, DRAKE TEAMS FAVORED

Drake, Redwood and Terra Linda are favored to win their Marin Athletic League football openers this weekend, according to the I-J's panel of "Fearless Prognosticators."

Drake is a slight favorite to beat Tamalpais Saturday afternoon at 1:30 on the College of Marin field; Redwood is the choice over San Rafael on the S.R. High School field tomorrow at 8 p.m., and Terra Linda is the pick over Marin Catholic Saturday night at 8 o'clock at College of Marin.

College of Marin Tars are picked to lose their game with Solano College tomorrow, 8 p.m., on the Marin Field, and Novato will be an underdog against Watsonville Saturday in a non-league prep game at Novato, 2 p.m.

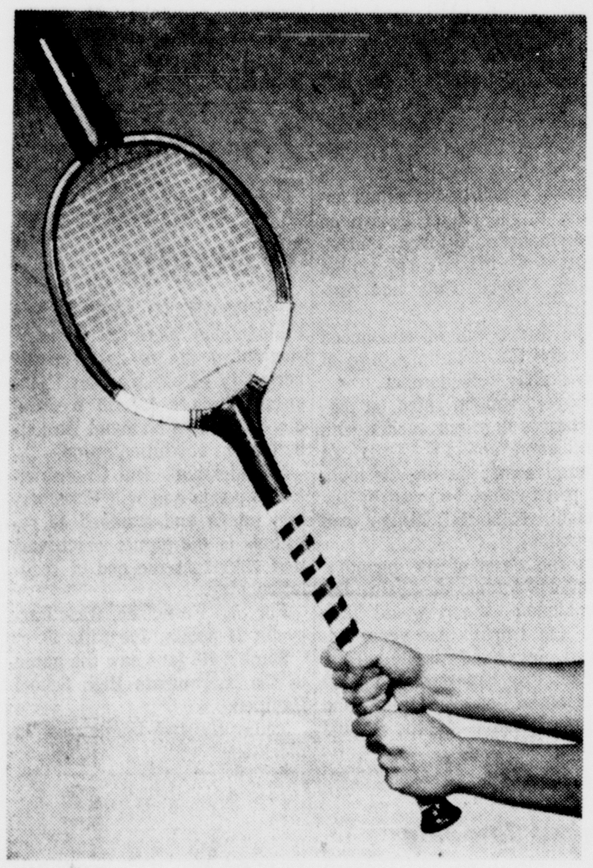
Special Bat For Whiff King; Local Prep Grid At Low Ebb



My, but that's a strange looking object above. No, no, not the one on top. That's ME. I mean that whatchamacallit that looks like a tennis racquet with a headache. Or is it a pregnant baseball bat?

Anyway, let's just call it a dingbat. Actually it's a trophy presented annually to the Sohner Tree Service softball team player who strikes out the most, and the winner this season was pitcher Morey Swarm who whiffed 50 times. He was presented the dingbat by previous winners Earl Ramponi, Jay Leatherwood and Keith Fraser.

The Sohner team may manufacture the fat bats and sell them to the San Francisco Giants.

SPEAKING OF the Giants, I see where Ray Sadecki will enter the Army soon for a six-month hitch. Maybe Uncle Sam can trade him to the Puerto Rican army for Orlando Cepeda.

ANOTHER TRADE I'd like to see: The 49ers' Bob Fouts to the Oakland Raiders for Bill King, which would be going from bad to voice.

SAN ANSELMAN Johnny Boccabella caught both ends of a doubleheader for the Cubs against the Mets yesterday and collected two singles, a double and scored a run in six at-bats.

SORRY, BUT Marin Athletic League football appears to be at a low ebb this season, judging by practice records. In 14 non-league games our boys won six games, lost seven and tied in one, scoring a total of 177 points against the opposition's 232.

I-J REPORTER-COLUMNIST Rick Lyttle thinks the suggestion here the other day that the 49ers should un-duress the harassed John Brodie was simply awful. "I not only want my dime back," growled Lyttle, "I want by quarterback."

SPORTS BRIEFS

BASEBALL

ST. LOUIS—Red Schoendienst was rehired as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals for 1967.

BOSTON—Dick Williams, who managed the Toronto Maple Leafs to the International League Playoff Championships, was named manager of the Boston Red Sox for next season.

GOLF

TUCSON, Ariz.—Medalist Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., beat Jack Westland 3 and 2 in the first round of medal play in the USGA Seniors Tournament.

HORSE RACING

NEW YORK—Irish County, $7.40, poured it on in the stretch to beat Pepperwood in the Astarita Stakes at Aqueduct.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—U. Bearcat, $4.20, blew a five-length lead over Cycloblond but managed to win by a neck in the feature at Churchill Downs.

Kerrigan Ousted In Seniors

George Kerrigan of Fairfax is out of the USGA Seniors Golf Tournament, but what can you expect when you're playing someone from Golf itself.

Kerrigan, retired investment broker, lost 1 up to William Lanman of Golf, Ill., and when you're from Golf, how can you lose?

The field was cut to 16 yesterday, with the golfers 55 and older going into the second round today and the third and fourth rounds tomorrow. The championship round is Saturday, all action at Tucson National Golf Club course.

NuDelman defeated Eldon Bennett of Santa Venetia, a San Rafael car salesman, 2-up in yesterday's championship 36-hole round. Four down after nine holes, NuDelman came back with birdies on the 14th and 17th holes to take the lead.

He remained in front as he shot a one-over-par 72 on the back 18, while Bennett was carding a 77 over the sun baked Peacock Gap course.

MRS. W. I. SARM won the Oakview Rovers' "Over the Field" Tournament at Meadow Club yesterday with a 33-10-23.

Mrs. J. F. Bottom was second with a 38-12-26, followed by Mrs. Arthur Brodie with a 39-10-29 and Mrs. Phil Bervan, 38-8-30.

Mrs. Bervan was named captain of the Oakview Rovers.

JASTER TIES DODGERS IN KNOTS

St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Larry Jaster unwinds with the last pitch of the game last night, shutting out the Los Angeles Dodgers, 2-0, on four hits. It was Jaster's fifth straight shutout over the Dodgers this season, tying a major league record set in 1916 by Grover Cleveland Alexander. (AP Wirephoto)

PRO PIGSKIN PROGNOSTICATOR

Rams Picked Over 49ers; Bears Ready To Explode

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Humpty Dumpty waiting for a fall.

That's how your peerless pro prognosticator feels, sitting on top of the world knowing that somehow, someway, somewhere, there's going to be a crashing end to it all.

For what happened last week was 10 correct selections in 11 games, an over-all record of 25-6-2 and an .806 percentage that represents the season's high-water mark.

So, cautiously, here we go again (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Los Angeles 28, San Francisco 21 — The Rams, who gave Green Bay a tussle before losing, should be able to contain the 49ers. Quarterback Roman Gabriel won't have as much trouble with San Francisco's pass rush and he'll win it for the Rams in this Friday night struggle.

St. Louis 35, Philadelphia 28 — Both teams getting stronger each week, but the Cardinals should have more momentum after beating Cleveland. Charley Johnson, the brainy St. Louis quarterback, gets the vote here.

Chicago 31, Minnesota 21 — The Bears should be ready to break loose, and the Vikings' defense offers a solid opportunity for Gale Sayers to bring Chicago its first victory of the season.

Cleveland 28, New York 17 — The Browns may have more trouble than anticipated with the Giants. But New York isn't strong enough to stop Cleveland's passing and handle Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly too.

Dallas 38, Atlanta 14 — The Cowboys haven't been stopped yet and the Falcons just don't seem to be the club to do it. The Don Meredith to Bob Hayes passing combination should be able to click consistently.

Washington 21, Pittsburgh 20 — The Redskins edged the Steelers last week so there's no reason why they shouldn't be able to do it again.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Buffalo 27, Kansas City 24 — The upset special. No one has held the Chiefs under 31 points in exhibition or regular season play, but the Bills might just be ready. Here's a hunch that Buffalo quarter- back Jack Kemp plays up to his MVP form.

New York 28, Boston 21 — The Patriots gave the Chiefs a struggle and the Jets had one with Denver last week, but Joe Namath continues to connect with his passes when they count.

San Diego 38, Miami 10 — The Chargers just have too much for the Dolphins and the John Hadl-Lance Alworth passing combination should have a big day.

Houston 35, Denver 17 — The Oilers will have to be wary of Denver's best weapon — the thin home air — but should be able to get out of town with a victory just as the Jets did.

Pirates Series To Decide All

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The San Francisco Giants have a day of rest today before the moment of truth—a series of three games with Pittsburgh.

If the third-place San Franciscans can sweep the series from the second - place Pirates, and if Los Angeles loses at least three of its remaining four contests, the Giants can still win the National League pennant. They have a make-up game to play with Cincinnati Oct. 3. if the situation demands it.

But it will take nothing less than that all out effort by San Francisco, and more than a little unwitting help from the Dodgers, for the near miracle to transpire.

The pennant race telescoped some yesterday as the Giants toppled the Atlanta Braves 5-3, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-2, and the Dodgers lost to St. Louis 2-0.

San Francisco is three games out, Pittsburgh 1½.

The Giants' victory was achieved via Gaylord Perry's 21st triumph — which ended a month-long jinx—and Jim Hart's four hits.

Perry, the major leagues' first 20-game winner, had failed in eight previous attempts at victory No. 21 and in the process had picked up six losses.

But this time he stuck, yielding eight hits and starting the fifth-inning rally which helped decide the game. Perry's single was followed by shortstop Tito Fuentes' two - run homer, his ninth of the season.

Hart drove in the fourth San Francisco run with a triple in the tighth and Willie McCovey singled in the final run in the ninth.

But Pittsburgh's Mack Jones came back with a solo home run over the left field fence to tie the score. Then Rico Carty hit another into the left field stands to open the bottom of the fourth and give the Braves a 2-1 lead at that point.

Three Major Upsets In Pacific Net

Some of the big names are Manuel Santana of Spain, Dennis Ralston, and Arthur Ashe of the United States, and Roy Emerson, Fred Stolle and John Newcombe of Australia.

In a women's singles upset yesterday, fourth-seeded Kerry Meville of Australia was defeated by unseeded Kristy Pigeon of Danville, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Upsets in men's singles occurred when unseeded Whitney Reed of Alameda defeated 16th seeded Graham Stilwell of England, 1-6, 6-4, 6-1. Unranked Bill Demas of Sacramento downed 13th-seeded Mark Cox — considered England's best left-handed player—9-7, 6-2.

Top - seed Santana defeated John Murio of San Francisco, 6-1, 6-3. Second-seeded Emerson beat scrappy Erik Van Dillen of San Mateo, 6-4, 6-3. Third-seeded Stolle managed to get past Cliff Mayne of Orinda, 8-6, 7-5.

Ralston, fifth-seed, advanced past South Africa's Terry Ryan, 7-5, 6-1. Ashe, No. 8, defeated Greg Shephard of San Francisco, 13-11, 6-2.

We Wonder If The 'Big Boppers' Will Ever Learn How To Bunt

HANLEY

ATLANTA — When the Giants moved to the Golden Gate in 1958 they brought with them a reputation of being big boppers, a power hitting ball club. They didn't even have a bunting machine. Nobody on the team bunted because they didn't know how to bunt. Everybody swung for the fence.

When knowledgeable baseball fans in old Seals Stadium pleaded with the team to bunt they were ignored. When the same fans made the same pleas a few years later in Candlestick Park they were told that big boppers didn't bunt.

BIG BOPPERS? Yes, Willie Mays and Willie McCovey and Jim Ray Hart. And there also was Orlanda Cepeda before he was traded away. But what about the rest of the ball club? Not one accomplished bunter in the lineup.

The one pennant won by the Giants since their move to the Golden Gate was not fashioned by homers. It was won on bunts —by Jose Pagan and Ernie Bowman. Remember them? In that year of 1962, Pagan and Bowman worked the sacrifice squeeze so successfully in half a dozen games that the Giants were in the proper No. 2 slot when the Dodgers began to fade in the '62 stretch.

NOW IT REMAINS to be seen whether the Giants are going to try to change their image next year. The present image of the ball club being a power outfit is a myth. In 71 games this season the Giants scored three runs or less. Is that a power outfit? Of course not. Indeed it is overall a weak hitting ball club that will wind up the 1966 season with a .245 team batting average.

If the Giants don't make a determined effort next spring to learn the art of bunting, their faithful Candlestick fans will be quite justified in shouting: "Just how long are you going to abuse our patience?"

AND WHILE THEY are about it, the Giants also should learn the art of hitting-and-running on singles. The Giant pitching staff, which held the enemy to three runs or less in 81 games this season, would have welcomed some run-producing singles.

A win on a single may not be as spectacular as one on a homer but it counts just as much.

Doctor's Orders: Arnie Palmer Told To Slow Down On His Golf Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the millionaire golfing pro, has passed a physical examination but also has been told to cut down on his golf and other activities.

The 37-year-old star from Labrobe, Pa., said yesterday he had just received the report on his physical check-up at a Pittsburgh clinic which showed "I was in good shape.

"I was concerned specifically about rheumatic arthritis, but I was cleared on that score," added Palmer. "However, I was told I would have to slow down or take a longer rest.

"I don't know yet how this will affect my 1967 golf schedule. I probably will have to cut back on all the things I have been doing, including my exhibition golf and my tournament golf as well."

He said there would be no changes in his immediate golfing plans because of previous commitments and that he intends to play in the world match-play tournament at Wentworth, England, starting next Wednesday.

Palmer was forced to pull out of the New Orleans Open last May when he felt a knifing pain in his back in the second round. He complained of aches and pains in his right shoulder.

He won both the Los Angeles Open and the Tournament of Champions this year. He blew a seven-stroke lead with nine holes to play in the U.S. Open last June and then was beaten in the playoff by Billy Casper.

Palmer is golf's all-time money winner and a business tycoon as well with an annual income estimated in the $500,000 and up class. He flies his own jet plane to enable him to keep up with his scattered business interests and to meet his golf commitments.

He will make a total of about 22 tournament appearances for the year, the same as he did in 1965. Earlier in his career he competed in between 31 and 34 tournaments annually.

WORLD MEET AT SAN DIEGO

Cal Gal Leads In Surfing

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Joyce Hoffman has taken a commanding lead toward her third straight women's division crown in the World Surfing Championships.

The 19-year-old Miss Hoffman said yesterday that her "noseriding, turns and cutbacks" enabled her to compile a maximum 60 points before the end of the girls' preliminary heats.

Miss Hoffman, of Capistrano Beach, Calif., vaulted into the finals Sunday with three other girls — Gail Couper of Australia, Mimi Monroe of the U.S. East Coast Team, and Joey Hamasaki of San Clemente.

Miss Hoffman and Miss Hamasaki are members of the U.S. West Coast squad, as is Josette Largardere of Hermosa Beach, who must compete in semi-final heats Saturday with Phyllis O'Donnell of Australia for a fifth berth in the finals.

"Surf has been very good both days," said Miss Hoffman. "Competition is very keen."

The girls competed in light surf but had some rides on peaks up to five feet high. Larger swells were forecast for the men's competition.

Miss Couper said she altered her style and plans to give Miss Hoffman a battle for the title, despite admitting her chances are "very slim" to overcome Joyce's 16-point lead.

"I attacked the waves instead of just standing up and riding them," she said. "I made the boards do things I wanted to do. I did more noseriding and turning."

Men competitors include the 1964 champion, Bernard Farrelley of Australia. The defending champion, Felipe Pomar of Peru, withdrew because of personal reasons.

Other contenders, according to meet officials, are Paul Strauch Jr., of Hawaii, Rusty Miller, Steve Bigler and Corky Carroll of the U.S. West Coast, Gary Propper of the U.S. East Coast and Nat Young of Australia.

Weather Report: Dodgers May Swing In The Rain

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers may be swining in the rain during portions of their crucial three-game series in Philadelphia over the weekend.

The weather forecast for Philadelphia is for clear skies Friday, possible showers Saturday night and clear again on Sunday. It rained there on Thursday.

The leading Dodgers play the Phils on Friday and Saturday nights, and close the regular season Sunday afternoon.

In Pittsburgh, where the second-place Pirates face the third-place San Francisco Giants Friday night and Saturday and Sunday afternoons, the forecast is for partly cloudy, breezy and cool weather.

The temperature in each city is expected to range between 50 and 60 degrees.

Rec Softball

Spiro's Red Vest defeated Fairchild 8-7 and Perry's Delicatessen won by forfeit over the Emporium Tuesday in San Rafael Recreation softball play at Albert Park.

Terra Linda 'C' Basketballers Win

Gary Katz led the winners with nine points. Terra Linda led at the half, 23-10.

COLLEGE GRID

Heat Hits Cal, Stanford Teams

BERKELEY (AP)—Halfback Jim Sheridan may be given a chance to start Saturday as the California Bears take on Pittsburgh at Berkeley, says Bear coach Ray Willsey.

Sheridan would replace regular Rick Bennett.

In a practice session shortened because of intense heat, Willsey still had the Bears jumping through quite a few hoops yesterday. They worked on goal line defense and offense and passing and running games, both offensive and defensive.

STANFORD SWEATS

STANFORD (AP)—The Stanford football team has been working hard to combat the tricks of a quarterback almost as hot as the temperatures have been in the Indians' camp.

As the temperature soared over 90 degrees yesterday, Stanford defensive units learned the play patterns directed by signal-caller Bobby Duhon of the Tulane Green Wave.

The Wave rolls into Stanford Saturday—fresh from upsets of Virginia Tech and Texas A&M —to try to register a victory on the record books against the Indians. In their previous encounters, Stanford is an immaculate 3-0.

SAN JOSE STATE

SAN JOSE (AP)—Linebacker John Taylor and tackle Brent Foreman have proved that they can still move, and even impress the coach, when the temperature on the field nears 100 degrees.

It got that hot during the Spartans practice session yesterday, but coach Harry Anderson had praise for both players.

Anderson also hopes that Jack Brubaker can take over for injured defensive end Mel Tom when the Spartans play Oregon Saturday.

World's Top Netter To Be Chosen

NEW YORK (AP) — A plan has been set up for picking the No. 1 amateur tennis player in the world, starting with the 1967 season.

The U.S Tennis Writers Assn. announced today that a $4,000 gold trophy, donated by Martini & Rossi, would be presented annually to the player chosen on performances in five tournaments — Wimbledon, United States, France, Italy and Australia.

The award will be announced after the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills in September.

Players will be rated on performances in major events, with Wimbledon and the American Championships having the highest point value, followed by the French, then the Italian and Australian.

On the basis of the formula, Manuel Santana of Spain, the Wimbledon winner, would have won the trophy this year, followed by Fred Stolle, Tony Roche, Roy Emerson and John Newcombe of Australia and Dennis Ralston of the United States.

76ers Rally To Defeat Warriors

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers scored eight straight points in an overtime period to defeat the San Francisco Warriors 127-118 Wednesday night in a National Basketball Assn. ehixbition game.

Philadelphia's Hal Greer netted 25 points and Wilt Chamberlain hit 23 and grabbed 19 rebounds in the game, which was tied 112-112 at the end of regulation play.

For San Francisco, Rick Barry hit 21 points, Joe Ellis 16.

Today the two teams play in Stockton.

Saturday Will Be Red-Letter Day For Marin's Virgil Hollis

STEVENS

Saturday will be a red-letter day for Dr. Virgil S. Hollis of Belvedere, who, with several other luminaries including Governor Brown, will be honored at an awards banquet to be held at the Marin Rod and Gun Club. Hollis is Marin County Superintendent of Schools.

Reservations for the gala affair may be had with the California Wildlife Federation, 25 California St., S.F.

Saturday is also notable for nimrods who fancy lining up a tree squirrel in their sights, and it is the day when shotgunners try their darndest to knock over an octet of pigeons. The season on pigeons will run through Oct. 30 in the 13 Northern California counties of Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Humboldt, Mendocino, Trinity, Tehama, Butte, Glenn, Plumas, and Sierra.

SQUIRREL HUNTERS may only take a brace of the fuzzy-tails, and it is suggested that you pick up a copy of the 1966 Hunting Regulations and check for areas open to tree squirrel hunting.

If you fancy a meal of pork, note that Sunday it will be legal note slay a wild pig in Monterey County as well as in other areas.

SUNDAY is also a day of closures. The season is over this year for Sierra and Ruffled Grouse. Ditto for the temperamental doves.

Shifting our sights to the piscatorial pursuits, I note, in a recent release from the U.S. Department of the Interior, that three-quarters of a mile of prime spawning ground for salmon and steelhead on the middle fork of the Salmon River in Idaho, has been purchased by our forest service. Good show, that!

GOING BACK TO hunting—A letter from I. C. Warner, formerly a resident of San Rafael, but now owner of the 5C Ranch near Fort Jones, Calif. It reads in part—"I know from reading your articles in the I-J you are against killing does (Not from reading MY column, mister!), but I think you are nuts! We harvest all females we raise on the farm. If I had you here I could show you up to 1,000 does in the field any night. The Merlo Ranch alone could probably show near that many. Give the boys back home in S.R. a chance to hunt."

Mr. Warner mentions that a hunt on his ranch can be had for a fee of $3. He ends his letter with: "I lived in S.R. for over 40 years before coming here."

Any reader interested can make arrangements by writing Warner's 5C Ranch, Star Route.

THERE WILL BE two depredation deer hunts in Warner's area: The Merlo Ranch, where 500 either-sex deer hunt permits will be issued, and the Cramer-Burton Ranches where 250 permits to hunt deer of either sex will be issued. So it would seem that Mr. Warner's suggestion has merit.

The annual mid-September aerial waterfowl inventory of the Central Valley disclosed 819,000 ducks, a 61 per cent increase over last year's count. Good news, eh?

Folsom Leads Keglers At San Rafael Lanes

Jim Folsom of Novato, warrant officer at Hamilton Air Force Base, had top series of the week at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, at 615 in the 900 Classic League.

Folsom's top game was 235. Close behind was Bill Borsi with a 614 series in the TGIF League. Jim Ross of the Twilight Twirlers had top game, a 239.

For the gals, it was Lucille Latson with top series, a 518 in the Sleepers League, and Norma Pedroli with top game, a 212 in the Keglerettes.

Colt Linebacker On Injured List

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts have announced that linebacker Ted Davis has cleared waivers and will be placed on the injured reserve list.

Davis' spot on the roster will be kept vacant for now but a replacement may be named for the Oct. 9 game against the Bears in Chicago.

Trump Lead Sound Only When You Won't Set Up The Dummy

It is a sound idea to lead a trump when you know that declarer must ruff his side suit in dummy.

It is a poor idea to lead a trump when declarer may set up dummy's long suit instead of his own.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

West discovered he had made the wrong lead as soon as he saw the dummy.

He had simply handed control over to South instead of striking a blow for his own side.

WHAT HAPPENED?

East returned a heart, but South stepped up with the ace of hearts and led a club to dummy's ace.

Then he discarded all of his losers on the diamonds, making a total of 12 tricks.

"Did we miss the boat?" North asked anxiously.

MUST ATTACK

South was right.

West must make an attacking lead since dummy has advertised a strong diamond suit that may provide discards for South's losers.

West should lead a club in the hope of grabbing a club trick or two before the mice get them.

The club lead would not produce an immediate trick but would have the magic effect of knocking out the only entry to the diamonds.

SOUTH'S TACTICS

South ruffs the third round of clubs and tries to ruff a heart in dummy, whereupon East over-ruffs and returns a trump.

South loses two hearts, one over-ruff, a diamond and a club, making only eight tricks instead of twelve.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♡ 9 4
♣ A 7 5
♣ Q J 7 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

This shows spade support with a total count of 6 to 10 points, counting distribution as well as high cards.

In this case you have 7 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton.

AMF Shows Recovery After Hitting Low

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I own 200 American Machine & Foundry at 23. What is the trouble with this company? Is there a chance for it to come back?" J. P.

A. Yes, the outlook seems brighter for AMF. After hitting a low of $1.07 a share in 1964, earnings recovered to $1.17 last year and are expected to reach $1.30 this year. Your stock is a hold on its long-term potential and at your price the yield is practically four per cent.

When the fad for bowling ran its course in the early sixties, AMF's sales dropped 26 per cent. There was also a fall-off in demand for Atlas and Titan missile launchers. The turnaround from 1964 stems from a series of acquisitions, rising government sales, improved product mix, and the increasing use of company's advanced technical capabilities.

Q. "I'm a working widow, preparing for retirement in seven years. I used my late husband's insurance to buy General Telephone at 23, General Public Service at 7, National Investors at 17.94, Life Insurance Investor's at 20.77 and Trans-World Financial averaging 24½. The latter worries me." N. G.

A. Trans-World's earning are in a sharp decline due to tight money conditions. To sell it now would bring so small a sum that you might as well hold for partial recovery, inasmuch as long-term prospects are generally encouraging.

Congratulations on owning General Telephone at your price. Patient holding of your other shares should enable you to move out of them later — if such is your desire — around your cost price. Recent quotations are not too much out of line with your cost levels. Then you could shift your funds into faster growth stocks to build up capital for retirement.

You should adjust your cost price to 5.9¢ on National Investor and to 10.39 on Life Insurance Investor's. The former was split three-for-one this year and the latter paid a 100 per cent stock dividend in 1964.

1967 DATSUN STATION WAGON

This year's compact station wagon by Datsun offers a more powerful engine, full synchromesh four-speed floor shift and an all-steel unitized body. A hidden compartment under the cargo deck provides storage space for spare tire, tool kit and other equipment. Available in Marin County at Annex Motors, San Rafael.

Investment Firm Reveals Plan To Centralize Office

The firm of Francis and Murray Inc., investment brokers, with headquarters in Mill Valley, is planning to relocate at a more central Marin site, according to Charles J. Francis, president.

The San Leandro office of the firm will remain in operation, he said.

Francis also announced that Franklin T. Weber of San Rafael has been elected vice president of the firms.

William E. Wright of Mill Valley, who manages the San Leandro office, and Astrid B. M. Broess of Tiburon, secretary-treasurer have been elected directors.

Industrialists' Wives Bigger Stockholders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wives of some American business executives are far more prosperous than their husbands, at least as far as stock ownership in their husbands' companies is concerned.

Documents in the files of the Securities and Exchange Commission showed today that the holdings of some wives are as much as 50 times greater than those of their executive husbands. In some cases the percentage is even higher.

The documents were filed as a result of a new commission ruling requiring businessmen to report major stock held in their companies by their wives and minor children.

The ruling is in line with commission policy for fuller disclosure of the ownership of corporations selling securities to the public.

Existing law requires directors or officers of a company to report to the SEC the amount of stock owned beneficially either directly or indirectly.

Because of some confusion over the meaning of beneficial ownership, the commission earlier this year said that generally speaking a person is regarded as a beneficial owner of securities if the stocks are held in the name of a spouse or minor children.

It said reports, proxy solicitation.s registration statements and other materials filed after May 1 should reflect the new definition of beneficial ownership.

One filing since then showed that the wife of a Texaco, Inc., director owns 1,464,510 common shares of the company's stock. The records disclosed her husband, Lester J. Norris, owns 116,860 shares with another 118,595 shares owned through a trust or holding company.

Another filing showed that the family of G.W. Humphrey, board chairman of the M.A. Hanna Co., owns 206,542 shares of the firm's stock. Humphrey, however, owns 32,000 shares plus another 225,660 shares through trusts, the records showed.

Howard Hall, a director of the Quaker Oats Co., previously had reported holdings of 110 shares in the company. SEC records showed his wife owns 22,245 shares.

Trading Is Moderate But Stocks Close Low

Analysts saw the list as testing the bottom touched Aug. 29, the question being whether the list could rebound from that level.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.8 million shares compared with 5.99 million Wednesday.

Meanwhile, losses of about 6 points were taken by such stocks as Texas Instruments, IBM and Xerox. KLM Airlines lost 4. Down about 3 were Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, Polaroid, Superior Oil, Itek and Teledyen preferred.

Eastman Kodak slumped more than 4 points. Down a point or so were International Harvester, United Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Air Reduction, U.S. Smelting, Illinois Central and Schering.

Chrysler Extends Passenger Auto Warranty Plan

DETROIT — Chrysler Corp. has announced major expansions in its five-year, 50,000-mile passenger car warranty to make it the broadest and most complete warranty in the automobile industry.

Under the new warranty Chrysler's original five year 50,000 mile warranty on the company's passenger car power train will be extended to include the steering and suspension parts and assemblies and all road wheels. Further the balance of the car warrantable by the manufacturer will be warranted for two years or 24,000 miles whichever comes first.

The new customer care warranty will be effective on all 1967 Plymouths, Dodges, Chryslers and Imperals.

The new "customer care warranty" includes both labor and parts and is transferable by the owner when the vehicle is sold or traded.

Higher Savings Rate Expected

PASADENA (AP) — California Savings and Loan spokesmen say they hope September savings gains will surpass the $136 million August pace.

The gains represent a reversal of a trend toward investment in deposit certificates, the stock market and mutual funds, a spokesman for the California Savings and Loan League said yesterday.

California's gross savings and loan intake for August was nearly $810 million—up 31 per cent from August, 1965.

Syntex Profits Said Up Record 81 Per cent

PALO ALTO—Net sales of Syntex Corp. rose to $56,277,197 and net earnings increased to $18,957,608 for the fiscal year ended July 31, it was announced by Dr. George Rosenkranz, president.

The results for fiscal 1965 showed a 56 per cent increase in net sales and 81 per cent rise in net earnings over the previous year.

Alas, Los Angeles Boasts Better Pedestrian Safety

It comes as a surprise and as a blow to our northern California pride to learn that Los Angeles streets are the safest for pedestrians among the big cities of the nation.

That is, the pedestrian fatality rate is lowest in Los Angeles. San Francisco trails far behind. Or if you measure by hazard, danger and fatality rate, San Francisco is far ahead of Los Angeles.

A standard prejudice with which most northern Californians are equipped is the idea that all southern Californians, and above all those in Los Angeles, drive like maniacs.

Like most prejudices, this one exists mainly in the minds of the holders with little if any fact or statistical data to back it up.

If the northern Californian who occasionally drives or walks in Los Angeles will but observe, he will see why Los Angeles can boast a lower pedestrian fatality rate than San Francisco.

First, in Los Angeles the pedestrian cross-walk is inviolable. It is a wonder to behold when you step off the curb on one side of a broad, multi-laned thoroughfare like Wilshire Boulevard, to see traffic stop not only on your side but on the far side, too, many lanes away.

In San Francisco, you are lucky when you cross the street in a pedestrian zone if the cars coming and going stay far enough away so you are not blown by the passing breeze they create.

Second, Los Angeles pedestrians jay-walk a lot less than San Francisco Bay Area residents. In San Francisco it is not unusual to encounter a couple of shoppers wandering obliviously across the street in the middle of a downtown block as if they owned the place. Such a performance is almost never seen in Los Angeles. In San Francisco the police may speak harshly to jaywalkers; but how long has it been since you saw a jaywalker receive a ticket? Try jaywalking in Los Angeles and see how soon you get a ticket.

Unfortunately, conditions on Marin streets are too much like San Francisco and not enough like Los Angeles.

Our pedestrians need to learn to confine their street crossing to established pedestrian cross-walks. Our motorists need to learn to accord pedestrian cross-walks the same inviolability they have in Los Angeles.

And our police need to help both pedestrians and motorists break old bad habits and establish new, improved ones.

Plenty Of Hummingbirds Now

Marin's gardens are alive with the motion and sound of hummingbirds this season of the year. They are especially prevalent in those gardens where they find a welcome of feeders or fuchsias.

There are over 300 species of hummingbirds in tropical America, but only a handful migrate as far north as California.

Hummingbird fathers are gay, carefree rascals, leaving the nestbuilding, the hatching of eggs, and the raising of the young entirely to the female parent.

Anyone who has watched them long can tell you that hummers are feisty little things and are very possessive about "their" flowers and feeders. With their peculiar habits, they are fun to watch.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California's gubernatorial election campaign is in another of its "Who's on First?" stages again, although there is some doubt whether the electorate is as concerned with this as it is with the tight National League pennant race.

The mimeograph in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office is working overtime these days to carry the governor's statements on government, and the statements of numerous other Democrats who are active in the campaign. Most recently, the governor's office in the State Capitol released a news story concerning a letter written by George Christopher which said Reagan surely would lose in November if he didn't endorse Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) when and if he ran for re-election to the U. S. Senate.

AT TIMES, the material from this mimeograph seemed uncertain over whether it was more concerned with Reagan's failure to endorse Kuchel, or his failure to repudiate the John Birch Society. Now the governor has charged that Reagan will attempt to "unring the bell" by disowning the JBS and embracing Kuchel.

To make the situation perhaps even more confusing, Brown now is holding up Christopher, along with Kuchel, as the types of Republican leaders to which Reagan should turn.

"Does he (Reagan) really expect anyone to believe that he shares the philosophy of outstanding moderate-progressive Republicans like Tom Kuchel and George Christopher?" Brown asked.

WHAT MAKES this confusing is that, only several months ago, Brown's praises of Christopher were not so high. Christopher was in the primary campaign against Reagan and the Brown forces were openly worried that Christopher might win. The June 7 election, of course, made their fears ungrounded, as Reagan outdistanced Christopher by more than a 2-to-1 margin.

However, during the heat of the primary, Brown's forces reached back in Marin County court records some 25 years to revive the story that Christopher had been arrested, hauled into the police station, booked, fingerprinted and photographed.

The offense, which has been pretty widely publicized over the years, was selling milk below the state-set minimum prices. Public opinion has pretty well cleared Christopher as that was a time of considerable turmoil in the milk industry.

THE REPEATED Democratic demands that Reagan disavow the John Birch Society and give his advance endorsement of Kuchel's candidacy in 1968 are becoming somewhat tiresome to many—they always were a bit ridiculous.

Governor Brown, when asked if he would support Sam Yorty, Los Angeles mayor, in his candidacy for the U. S. Senate in 1968—in return for Yorty's support this year—answered that he didn't feel he should become involved in primary campaigns.

The Republicans have felt this way, too, and, with the exception of Kuchel, who endorsed Christopher, most Republican office-holders did not make any pre-primary endorsement.

Fairfax Festival Has Unsung Heroes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Now that it is over, every single person who was there or had anything to do with the Fairfax Art Festival must agree to its fantastic success. And this, in spite of the most minimal of publicity.

On behalf of the many dealers both out of town and the local area and the many merchants who enjoyed an unheard of business, we can only thank those people who arose early morning after morning and worked far into each night on the endless and meticulous details that made this possible even though they remained unpraised, mostly unheard of and certainly unluncheoned with the other so-called big-wigs. I am thinking particularly of the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Martin, Mr. Bob Stone and Mr. Gerry Benson.

U.S. Should Get Out Of Viet Nam

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The new U. S. position on Viet Nam is an improvement but not good enough. Its weaknesses are highlighted by a review of the origins of the war, the stated and implied aims of the U. S., and the recent election there.

The war in Viet Nam is both a struggle for national liberation and a social revolution, as was our American Revolution or War of Independence. It began after World War II when the French, who had seized the country in 1858 and handed it to the Japanese in 1940, tried to regain it. The independence movement appeals to the vast peasant majority by offering them land, education and some political participation. The Communists have gained a disproportionate influence in the independence movement (called since 1960 the National Liberation Front, or, less politely, Viet Cong), thanks to what must strike many Vietnamese as singlemindedness, discipline, astuteness and courage—even though we may see it as rigidity and fanaticism.

The only respectable basis for U. S. intervention in Viet Nam is to assure a voice for the non-Communists—in other words, as Sen. George McGovern says, to give representative government a chance. Insofar as our aim is to show that Communist-led wars of national liberation cannot succeed or that Red China is a paper tiger, we are on an immoral collision course. An anti-Communist holy war at the expense of the Vietnamese (and our own youth) will win us nothing but scorn in the court of world opinion, as Secretary General U Thant has warned.

We would be properly scornful of an election in a Communist country like the one we and General Ky sponsored in South Viet Nam — with the opposition outlawed, with no party slates, without a free press or even free discussion. The most we can say for the new Assembly is that it is one more political counterforce to the Viet Cong, along with the Buddhists, the Catholics and regional groups.

Citizens who seek peace with honor should urge our government: 1. to recognize the Viet Cong clearly and ungrudgingly as a major party to negotiations (the Kennedy - Fulbright position as against the Johnson-Rusk one), 2. to seek an "international presence" trusted by all parties to oversee formation of a coalition government in the South, 3. to cease bombing and offensive ground operations unconditionally in order to show our good faith, which is understandably doubted.

U.S. Should Press For Total Victory

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When are we going to win in Viet Nam?

It is certainly distressing to talk to some of the returning servicemen and hear them tell about all the restrictions that are placed on the military in conducting the "war" in Viet Nam. It just doesn't seem to make good sense or logic that we should be sacrificing the lives of thousands of young Americans and a billion dollars or more per month in a war that we are not allowed to win. And why aren't we allowed to win this war and get it over with? Is it because the Communist agents in our government have more influence with the executive branch that does Congress and the voting and taxpaying public? Or is it that the "forces of evil" working through their front organization entitled "The Council on Foreign Relations," and with heavy influence from some of the multimillion-dollar tax-exempt foundations, find it profitable to use this war as a means to extend their goals of one-world socialism over our good and great country?

Or is this great American public too apathetic to insist that we get the job done in Viet Nam and bring the boys home? And have not the Communists, their sympathizers and dupes been continuously working through every phase of our economic, social and political institutions, to divide and confuse the people so that they somehow have become willing to accept the administration's plan for a long war? And in a few years to impose a great society Dictatorship on the American people with supreme control vested in the godless communistic United Nations?

I submit that the above are very distinct possibilities unless all of us demand of our Congressmen and Senators that they exert every moral effort to take this war out of the hands of the politicians and back into the hands of the military so that they can get the job done at minimum cost in American lives.

BASEBALL FANS are unlikely to forget the antics of a one-time Met first baseman named Marvelous Marv Throneberry. To put it mildly, Marv was not the greatest fielder in major league annals — and nobody knew it better than Marv himself. For one Sunday doubleheader, a banner crowd turned out and out the loud-speaker came the announcement, "Anybody interfering with a ball in play will be ejected immediately from the park." Throneberry looked worried and asked Casey Stengel, "Do you think they mean me?"

RALPH NADER, whose book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," has turned many an erstwhile speedster into a conservative and cautious driver, received a letter from one reader who advised that before reading his book, she and her husband had been wont to take separate planes. Now, however, they drive to the airport in separate cars and fly on the same plane.

South Side Chicago Negroes —Black Power At Its Best

What's happening is so revolutionary that only a few, who are watching it come to life at first hand, can believe it's true.

But it is true—this fantastic, unexpected, exciting, unique revolution of young Negro political activists in the 90 per cent Negro First Congressional District. They are Republican "revolutionaries" who are dead set against Mayor Richard Daley's Chicago machine, who are valiantly fighting against the re-election of its South Side boss, Congressman William Dawson, and who are turning the GOP inside-out to bring it off.

They may not bring it off this time, but it is evident that, as a starter, they will come near enough to give the 80-year-old Dawson the scare of his twelve terms in office.

AND IN SO doing they are building for the future: To retire Dawson next time if not now, to free, as they see it, the 160,000 Negro voters of the First District from being neglected pawns of the Chicago machine, and to help build the Republican party as an instrument for bettering the life of Negroes in the congested cities.

They call themselves the "New Breed" and they are at it in earnest. They are determined, sophisticated, and realistic. The core of the "New Breed" is a group of young men, 25 to 30 years old, many of them returned Viet Nam veterans. They have turned to the Republican party as the only means of taking political power from the Daley machine and restoring it to the Negro voters who are fed up with being taken for granted and being used to help elect the Democratic machine and then seeing their needs neglected and forgotten.

THEIR CONGRESSIONAL candidate opposing Dawson for his 13th consecutive term is the chairman of the "New Breed Committee," the 25-year-old, 6-foot-4 South Side High School and Drake University basketball star and political science major, David R. Reed.

I SPENT A DAY with Dave Reed and his fellow New Breeders and it is evident that they have turned to the GOP partly out of necessity (reform from within the Democratic party here has proved hopeless) and partly because of the sympathetic welcome and help they are getting from Republican Senatorial candidate Charles E. Percy whose vigorous support for civil rights and practical reform gives him a standing among Negroes no Republican has earned in many years.

"The days of Uncle Tom and plantation politics are over in the North as well as in the South," is the way Reed explains the momentum his "New Breed" revolt is acquiring. "Machine rule that makes lackeys of free men and women has no place in a democracy.

"FOR TOO LONG the people of the First District have lived on Mayor Daley's plantation. Our people deserve representation which is responsive to their real human needs—things like more jobs, better schools, decent housing, help for struggling small business, better care for mothers and the elderly, welfare programs with dignity."

Reed is quite aware that Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois has lately been turning Negroes away from the Republican party while Chuck Percy has been drawing them back. He points out that a higher percentage of Republican Congressmen voted for the enacted civil rights laws than Democratic Congressmen.

This South Side "New Breed" is not turning back. It spurns violence and its goal is to end machine domination of Chicago Negroes through aroused Negro voting power.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Threats Increase Against President

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

The group of government experts, set up by the White House following the Warren Commission's report on President Kennedy's assassination, found that threats against the President have more than doubled in recent months.

OTHER DISTURBING facts reported to the President by the panel are:

The number of persons considered extremely dangerous to the safety of the President has grown from 1,400 to 1,800 in the past two years.

More than 100 threatening telephone calls were intercepted in a single night..

Persons have been found carrying arms near the White House or in crowds the President was preparing to pass through.

THE EXPERTS singled out the "dangerous persons" list as presenting the biggest security problem for the Secret Service and FBI, charged with protecting the President and his family.

The report recommended that routes traveled by the President in large cities be kept as secret as possible. Also that when the routes are announced in advance, the President ride in a bullet-proof auto.

The list of "dangerous persons" compiled by the security panel includes more than 100 U. S. defectors who disappeared in Communist countries and whose whereabouts are unknown.

THE PRESENT location of nearly a dozen of these turncoats, including four of the 21 U. S. prisoners of war who defected to Red China, is now one of the most intensive manhunts in recent years.

One of the most mysterious of the "most wanted" defectors is Robert Webster, an ex-serviceman and crack marksman who defected in 1959, around the same time as Lee Harvey Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy. One intelligence report notes that Webster could have slipped back into the U. S.

Information on most of the other defectors is sketchy and incomplete, as indicated by the four being tracked in the U. S.:

"Sgt. Richard G. Corden, of Chicago, arrived in San Francisco on Jan 19, 1959, from Communist China. He lived in Milwaukee in 1961; Chicago in 1962. Present employment and residence unknown."

"Cpl. Andrew Fortuna, of Greenup, Ky., returned to U. S. from China July 3, 1957. Worked as laborer. Last reported seen at Salvation Army Center, Gary, Ind., in August 1964."

"Pfc. Otto Grayson Bell, formerly of East Olympia, Wash.; last reported working as handyman in Olympia in December 1964. He returned from Communist China in July 1955."

"Cpl. Aaron P. Wilson, of Urania, La., returned to the U. S. on December 6, 1956, from Communist China. His recent location and work not known."

Other defectors on the list being sought are Capt. Alfred Svenson, M/Sgt. Willard E. Valenti, Liberto Ricciardelli, Marilyn Dorothea Murret, Betty Jane Myers and Shirley Dubinsky.

Mental Cases Can Be Found By Dentists

CHICAGO (SS) — Emotional illness is often first diagnosed in the dentist's chair, a Texas dentist reported here.

Excessive smoking, tooth grinding, pencil chewing and ringing in the ears are among symptoms suggesting some kind of emotional disturbance which may itself be the cause of the dental disorder.

Dr. Melvin Land of Dallas said in the Journal of the American Dental Association (Sept.) that dentists are becoming more and more aware of the psychosomatic and neurotic factors complicating dental problems.

"A patient with an inordinate amount of anxiety will fear the simplest of dental procedures," he said. Treatment easily accepted by most patients can cause fear bordering on severe panic in a disturbed patient.

Changes in the moisture of the mouth and throat are indications of emotional trouble, Dr. Land said. Chemical changes in a person's saliva brought on as a result of emotional reaction can have harmful effect on teeth.

Signs of a severe overlay of mental illness are noted in one out of 10 dental patients, Dr. Land reported.

Communist, Bircher, Both Get Equal Treatment From Students

For whatever it's worth, College of Marin students have my enthusiastic approval for treating a member of the American Communist Party exactly as they treated a member of the John Birch Society, both lecturers in the students' "Controversy '66" series.

I RATHER expected the students would favor the Communist. I thought (and it's my opinion, not necessarily that of this newspaper) that the sympathies of any average liberal student would be closer on such items as civil rights, Viet Nam, free speech and so on, to the position of the Communist Party than to that of the John Birch Society.

But the 100-plus students who attended the lecture last week of W. Garry Woodward, Marin section leader of the John Birch Society, and the lecture this week of Bettina Aptheker, a member of the national committee of the American Communist Party, questioned both from positions ranging from critical to hostile. Not that I value hostility per se, but I think it's a student's job to react with hostility to misused information, and I think both speakers provided the opportunity.

WOODWARD was invited to speak on the Birch Society and did. Miss Aptheker was not invited to speak at all originally. Mickey Lima, northern California chairman of the American Communist Party, was invited to speak on the party. Lima notified the college at the last minute that he was ill and Miss Aptheker would speak in his place. Dick Giovannoli, one of the students instrumental in organizing the lectures, said he had assumed Miss Aptheker would speak on the given topic, and did not know until she arrived that she was going to speak on the Berkeley Free Speech Movement instead. Curiously enough, Lima accompanied her, but declined to speak either during her talk or during the question and answer period.

But in the two-hour question and answer period that followed her talk, the students ignored her topic and questioned her about the party, the Berlin Wall, the Hungarian revolution, free speech in the U.S.S.R and related topics.

Cheers!

LECTURE ORGANIZERS, anticipating a greater turnout for her talk than for Woodward's moved the lecture to Olney Hall from the Student Center, which had been packed for Woodward's lecture. About 150 students attended her lecture, but when the question and answer period was moved back to the Student Center after her talk, she ended up with about the same number as Woodward had had.

I THINK the fact that these two speakers were invited, did speak and were recieved intelligently and critically by the students provides a fairly obvious answer to both Woodward's contention that an internal Communist conspiracy is taking over the county and silencing criticism in its advance, and Miss Aptheker's contention that free speech is not a fact here.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Word In Defense Of Educated As It Is Spoken By Distaff

(Note: Mr. Ryskind's regular column seems to have been lost in transit. Instead, we are printing this open letter to him by a long-time reader.)

Dear Mr. Ryskind:

The choice is yours. Either you run this in place of your usual drivel—or else. Or else means packing your bag and those dreadful papers that overflow three rooms and never darkening these doors again.

Never mind who paid for the house. Under California's community property laws, half is mine, anyhow. The other half I have more than earned by devoting what turned out to be the worst years of my life to you. Even at the old minimum wage rate, that still leaves you away behind, so I'm keeping the '58 Chevy, too.

I WAS TOO young to know what I was doing when I took you for better or worse. There was that architect who danced so divinely, and that young baritone who was already giving concerts—but I had to pick a fellow who can't carry a tune and is a stumblebum on the dance floor.

But I have held to my vows and waited on you hand and foot, praised your every column and laughed at all your jokes for over a third of a century. If I don't greet you with your slippers and a martini when you come home from the office, it is only because you haven't the decency, like other husbands, to go to an office but work at home.

Other wives find escape from dreariness in TV. But I've never seen Peyton Place, because it's always playing against some dull documentary recited by deadly liberals, which I must watch while you make note of all the misstatements therein for use in some future column.

ALL THESE YEARS I have suffered in silence with never a complaint to friend, relative or minister. But when you refuse to defend your own family, I must finally speak out.

You know what I refer to. This week Pat Brown again indicted Ronald Reagan on the usual charges of malfeasance, bigotry, corruption, barratry, genocide and paranoia. Those are virtually the same charges Pat made against Sam Yorty in the primary, and I could understand your ignoring such trivia.

But this time he added a new one by asserting Ronnie was guilty of subscribing to and endorsing Human Events, with the implication that this was equivalent to high treason. And not a word from you!

Now your son—our son—is one of the editors of this informative, lively Washington weekly which prints all the news the Establishment would like to forget. You should have rushed to your son's defense, but you weaseled out on the ground that would be regarded as nepotism.

NEPOTISM, schmepotism! LBJ puts an in-law on the government payroll, Pat Brown gives his brother a state job, JFK made Bobby attorney-general — but you won't even stick up for your own son!

Well, then, move over and let me do it. Your son—and here I speak objectively—is one of the finest young men I've ever known. He won a Cub Scout award, played varsity basketball, served his stretch with the army and came back to earn two degrees.

And, in addition to being an excellent writer and a superb thinker, he makes it his business to help little old ladies and pretty young ones across the street. All of these shining qualities come through in every issue of Human Events, which is published at 410 First Street, Washington 3, D. C., and whose annual subscription price is only $12.50.

OF COURSE Ronnie Reagan reads it and endorses it—that's one of the many reasons I'm voting for him. So does George Murphy. So in fact do all the literate members of the House and Senate, including those Democrats who went beyond the sixth grade and hope to better themselves by becoming informed.

For all Pat Brown's lip-service to the glory of education, this sinster attack on a highly cultural periodical, staffed by young men of great integrity and ability, reveals him for what he is: An anti-intellectual extremist who would burn all books that do not agree with him.

And if I ever run into him in the course of this campaign, I'll tell him so in no uncertain terms.

Sincerely yours,
Mary H. Ryskind
(Mrs. Morrie)

AMES FORD

Flash! Bam! Special Announcement!

FRIDAY NIGHT!

We usually can't close our doors 'till the wee hours anyway (it's that way every year) so this Friday we're just planning to stay open ALL NIGHT! Even our huge service dept. will be loaded with new cars, the used car lot (under the brightest lights in Marin) and the new car showroom all will be open. Insomniacs welcome! Coffee up!
